Loaded signals for Cabinet expansion today

Union minister Thawar Chand Gehlot dropped; Scindia likely to make the cut; new Ministry of Cooperatives created

MANISH ANAND @ New Delhi

DECKS have been cleared for the expansion of the council of ministers led by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, with the government on Tuesday unveiling a new Ministry of Cooperatives along with the appointment of Union minister Thawar Chand Gehlot as Karnataka Governor.

The Prime Minister's Office has been individually calling the selected candidates to join the council of ministers over phone, with some already reaching the national capital on Tuesday.

Gehlot has been suitably accommodated as he was the Scheduled Caste face of the NDA. After a back and forth parleys, a grumbling JD (U) appears to have decided to join the government. The JD (U) was earlier seeking parity with the BJP's Bihar representation in the Union ministers by insisting on two Cabinet and two MoS berths.

The other Bihar element in the ministry is expected to be Pashupati Paras, who captured the LJP from under the nose of Chirag Paswan. Late Tuesday evening, the government informed that it has created the new ministry to strengthen the co-op movement. The NDA government had earlier created the Ministry of Jal Shakti. "This ministry will provide a separate administrative, legal and policy framework for strengthening the cooperative movement in the country," a government statement said. The creation of the new ministry is in line with the budget announcement made by the the finance minister, it added. P9

Impotent can't be accused of rape: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday lambasted Uttar Pradesh police over their insistence on Twitter India Managing Director Manish Maheshwari appearing before them, without affirming his links to the case filed by the Loni border police in Ghaziabad, UP, pertaining to a video that allegedly promoted communal disharmony.

"If there is an allegation under Section 376 of IPC (punishment for rape), potency is important. You can't make allegations against the impotent. Have you come to the conclusion that Twitter India is capable of controlling the doctored video which was uploaded on the platform of Twitter Inc, a US-based firm," the High Court asked the UP police.

This was one of a series of questions posed by the High Court to the counsel of UP police, while making oral observations during the hearing of a petition filed by Maheshwari, who questioned the notice issued by the UP police to appear before them.

Justice G Narendra asked the UP police counsel what were the allegations against Twitter India. "How does the complainant connect Twitter India with the crime registered? There must be some allegations and basis for registering the complaint. Don't bring IT Rules which are not applicable here," the judge said.

The advocate for UP police, P Prasanna Kumar, said it is a matter under investigation and that was why the notice was issued to Maheshwari to appear before the UP police.

India may bring back nationals from Af

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

INDIA is weighing options to bring its nationals and officials back from troubled Afghanistan amid the worsening security situation there.

The Taliban has already overrun a vast swathe of territory in the north without firing a bullet as scared Afghan soldiers fled to neighbouring Tajikistan, forcing countries like Russia and Turkey to close their consulates in the region and call back their diplomats.

Other have reduced their services and are worriedly watching the situation that is bound to deteriorate further before the September 11 deadline for full withdrawal of US troops from Afghanistan arrives.

"Plans have been discussed for bringing back our citizens and officials present in different parts of that country and multiple agencies are in discussion for this purpose," sources said. Since the proposal is in the planning stage, it is difficult to say right now if all nationals and officials would be brought back or if it would be partial evacuation.

Car driven by Savadi's son kills farmer, say witnesses; I wasn't in vehicle: Chidanand

MAHESH M GOUDAR @ Bagalkot

A 58-year-old farmer, who was riding a two-wheeler, was killed after a car allegedly driven by Deputy Chief Minister Laxman Savadi's eldest son crashed into him late on Monday evening.

The farmer, Kudaleppa Boli from Chikkahandargal village of Bagalkot taluk, is survived by his wife, three daughters and two sons.

Sources said that Laxman Savadi's son Chidanand Savadi and 11 others were returning to Athani through Vijayapura in two cars when the accident occurred near Kudalasangama Cross close to Hungund town on the National Highway-50. Kudaleppa suffered severe head injuries and was rushed to a private hospital, where he passed away after a couple of hours. A case has been registered at the Hungund police station.

Hanumanth Doddamani, a farmer who was working in his field next to the highway when the accident occurred, said, "I rushed to the spot as soon as I saw the accident. Chidanand was on the driver's seat and four others were inside the car. He tried to escape, but people who had gathered at the spot stopped him. We also deflated all the four tyres of the car to stop them from moving. Instead of helping the injured farmer, Chidanand damaged the number plates of his own car. He also threatened a youngster who was taking the video and photographs and made him delete them. We did not know who he was until he revealed that he was Savadi's son. As we were shifting the injured into an ambulance, Chidanand left the spot in another car." P7

76% of parents unwilling to send wards to school

Survey says hike in fees despite online classes, govts fail to regulate schools

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA
@Bengaluru

AT least 76 per cent of parents in India are not ready to send their children to school till cases in their district are down to zero, or until the children are vaccinated, revealed a survey. LocalCircles, a community social media platform that helps citizens and small businesses escalate issues for policy and enforcement interventions, conducted the survey.

The percentage of parents willing to send their children to school has reduced from 69 per cent to 20 per cent in four months, it said. Researchers believe schools are, thus, likely to stick to online classes in the foreseeable future.

Apart from fear of the virus, parents are plagued with the worry of increased tuition (school) fees. Online classes have begun across most of urban and semi-urban India, noted LocalCircles, which received many complaints from parents in the past 30 days, regarding increase in tuition fee despite continuation of online classes. The survey also aimed to check the efficacy of state governments to stop the increase in school fees, with education being a state subject.

With over 26,000 responses from people in 302 districts of India — 48 per cent respondents from metro or Tier-1 locations — 15,950 responded to the question of overall fee structure implemented in the year 2021-22, with 63 per cent of parents saying that schools have increased fees this year, despite classes being conducted online.

Just 1 per cent of parents said that schools reduced fees by 10-20 per cent from 2020-21, while 2 per cent said there was more than 20 per cent fee reduction. While 22 per cent of the respondents said there was no increase in fee from 2020-21, 12 per cent did not have an opinion.

Only 6% said their state government was 'effective'

23% said governments were 'somewhat effective'

PU II students to get subject-wise marks

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA @Bengaluru

WHILE students are concerned about how they will be marked subject-wise in PUC II, a top department official assured that they will be given marks for subjects individually. The marking scheme has been approved by the department.

For example, if a student has chosen History, Economics, Political Science and Psychology, he/she will get individual marks for each of the subjects.

Although these subjects would not have been taught in SSLC or other boards of Class 10, the department has decided to use the average of the electives converted to marks out of 45. These average elective marks from SSLC will be added to the PUC I marks of the subject (which will be normalised to a marking scheme of maximum 45 marks), and to the internal assessment marks of Class 12 in the subject, and the final marks of the particular subject can be attained.

Assistant Director of PUC Board Prasanna Kumar explained that with such a scheme, subject-wise marks will also be declared for Class 12 students.

90% exam staff vaccinated

A safe environment is being created for conducting SSLC examinations and teachers and staff have been vaccinated, Primary and Secondary Education Minister S Suresh Kumar said on Tuesday.

In a video conference with education department officials, he asked them to ensure this year's exam is more successful than the last, while asking them to encourage parents about the exams, since the second wave is tapering off. He asked officials to ensure that not a single student is left out of the exam process.

Deputy Directors of Public Instruction said that more than 90 per cent exam staff are vaccinated and the rest will be covered in the next two days. Mock run of the SSLC exam will be held on July 15 and 17. A phone-in programme is organised on July 9 and 14 to instill confidence in children.

Anti-rabies vax vehicles launched on Zoonoses Day

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

TO mark World Zoonoses Day, BBMP on Tuesday launched anti-rabies vaccination (ARV) vehicles for all the eight zones. The corporation also announced the launch of the week-long intensive ARV drive with a target to vaccinate at least 800 dogs every day in the city.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta told media that at present, one vehicle is being used for vaccination and neutering. By adding more vehicles, the situation will be further addressed. Animal welfare board and other NGOs are also helping in the exercise. According to BBMP, at present, intensive ARV has been taken up in 44 wards and it has planned to complete at least 70 per cent by the end of this year. In 2021, as many as 41,934 dogs have been vaccinated.

In each vehicle, there will be two dog handlers to conduct the ward-wise vaccination drive. World Health Organisation and World Animal health Organisation have set a goal for eradication of dog-mediated human rabies globally by 2030.

Vehicles can run on ORR bus lane after Metro work starts

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE bus priority lane will be open to vehicular traffic from Silk Board to K R Puram while the cycle lane could open up to e-bikes as Metro construction work is set to begin along the stretch soon. This figured among the key points discussed during a joint survey of the stretch by BBMP, BMRCL, traffic police, Directorate of Urban Land Transport (DULT) and Outer Ring Road Companies Association.

A senior Metro official told TNIE after the meet on Saturday that construction work will begin along at least one small portion of the Outer Ring Road, within a month. "BMRCL will occupy 4.5 metres from the central median on both sides of the road. The bus lane will take away 2.8 metres on each side and only 1.7 metres will be left for traffic on each side, which will be too less for private vehicles to pass through. To avert traffic bottlenecks, we want the bollards to be removed on the bus lane so that it can permit all vehicles. "The cycle lane coming in the service lane too needs to be opened up for smaller vehicles so that the road does not have major traffic bottlenecks, he added.

Assistant Commissioner of Police, Traffic, H J Thippeswamy said they plan to suggest removing the bollards to DULT for small distances near the specific stretches where work takes place. "The entire stretch will not be opened up at one go. If BMRCL is taking up work for say, 50 metres to 60 metres, the bus lane can be opened for that portion alone." After that is completed and the dug up portion is restored, then another stretch can be taken up." Two-wheelers (e-bikes) can be allowed in cycle lane.

A senior BBMP official too conceded that this line of thinking had been proposed and will be finalised in a meeting with DULT in a couple of days. DULT Commissioner Manjula said that joint inspection was done to identify constraints due to metro construction where road width is insufficient. "We would be having a follow-up meet to decide the course of action."

Ensure waste mgmt rules are implemented well, HC tells state govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

OBSERVING that prima facie, there is hardly any implementation of the Solid Waste Management (SWM) Rules, 2016, the Karnataka High Court questioned the BBMP how it is implementing the provisions of the Rules, without preparing the SWM plan.

A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Suraj Govindaraj inquired with the BBMP how it is implementing the other provisions of Rule 15 of the SWM Rules, without preparing SWM plan, when the Palike's counsel is claiming as such.

Meanwhile, the counsel of the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board informed the court that they are prosecuting BBMP officials under Section 15 of the Environment Protection Act, for violation of SWM Rules. In reply, the court said that both BBMP and KSPCB should set criminal law in motion against the concerned, if Rule 17 of SWM Rules is not complied with.

The court granted a last chance to the State Government and KSPCB to comply with the directions issued for effective implementation of SWM Rules.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

07th July: Deep in the background of all current planetary patterns, is an intense and contradictory relationship between two great planets, Saturn and Neptune. This brings everything that's safe and secure into a direct collision with all that's dreamy and imaginative. If you're confused, don't worry. So are many other people.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Moon introduces a joyful and optimistic note to the day's proceedings, but the Sun's relationship with Neptune is still pushing you towards unrealistic hopes and expectations. It may be best to keep your more ambitious plans under wraps for now.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
As today's headlines should reveal, this is a passionate period. The problem is that nobody has got their facts straight, not even you. However, you can exert a restraining influence on intemperate colleagues, so don't take any nonsense from anyone.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The Moon is now offering a series of opportunities which may remain on a verbal level. In other words, promises may not be translated into action. You may therefore have to compensate for other people's unwillingness to get to grips with practical tasks.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You have everything to gain from facing up to the past. Everything that you are going through now stems from events which took place six months ago. Those of you with long memories will realise that current stress dates back even further. And what this means is that you have every opportunity to plan for the coming year.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Arguments and disputes may be violent, but can be avoided. Quite frankly, it's one of those times when people who have no self-control create havoc but individuals with a mission to fulfil, will make great strides. Remember, one of your skills is keeping the peace.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Although the Sun is advising you to clinch deals, build your future prosperity and feather your own nest, Mercury is about to focus your attention on higher matters, making you wonder whether it is right to be so self-interested. Perhaps it is indeed best to put others first.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
If you know what's good for you, you'll continue to stand your ground over cash and career matters. Compromise and flexibility are all very well, but you don't want to be pushed completely off course. It seems that partners may have the edge, so take a tactful approach and seek their support.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You were right to hold out for better terms. In a sense it's your attitude that counts more than the outcome. That is because this current period is all about personal growth rather than material benefit. It's ideals that matter, rather than interest payments.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Your choices are perfectly clear. Loved ones or close companions may be unreasonable, but there is probably no escape from emotional tension. What you can do, however, is make a conscious decision to treat all differences of opinion in a mature, calm and rational manner.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Take heart and have faith in the future. Mercury, the planet of the mind and all forms of communication, is altering its position for the better. Differences of opinion at home should become less important and you'll find it easier to put your ideas across in other relevant areas.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your natural intuitive abilities are in excellent working shape but, in order to feel their benefit, you need to allow your mind to relax. Only then will important hunches make sense and valuable intuitions succeed in attracting your notice; pay attention to that still, small voice within.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
It's time to watch, wait and listen. The point is that correct behaviour depends on exact timing and you will instinctively know when the time has come to spring into action. In the meanwhile, family responsibilities keep you busy. Partners are still stressed, but it will pass eventually.

Thawar Chand Gehlot replaces Vala as Governor

He is set to resign as Union Minister, Leader of House in Rajya Sabha on Wednesday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

UNION MINISTER Thawar Chand Gehlot was on Tuesday appointed Governor of Karnataka, replacing Vajubhai Rudhabhai Vala.

According to a Rashtrapati Bhavan communique, 73-year-old Gehlot, who held the Social Justice and Empowerment portfolio in Prime Minister Narendra Modi cabinet, will replace Vala, who has been Governor of Karnataka since 2014. Gehlot's appointment comes ahead of a Union cabinet rejig, expected to be announced on Wednesday.

Vala's term as Governor ends with no further appointment, hinting that he would join the likes of Lal Krishna Advani and Murli Manohar Joshi as part of BJP's Margdarshak Mandal.

Gehlot, a prominent Dalit face of the BJP, is a staunch ideologue of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS), and has held multiple positions in RSS and BJP in his career spanning decades. He was also detained in judicial custody during the Emergency.

Although from Madhya Pradesh, Gehlot is no stranger to Karnataka. In 2006, as the BJP national general secretary in charge of Karnataka, he was instrumental in bringing BJP to power for the first time in the State, though in alliance with JDS.

Gehlot's appointment also comes at a time when BJP in Karnataka is simmering with infighting. A close confidante of Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah, Gehlot's appointment is expected to help BJP set its house in order in the State. "President Ram Nath Kovind and PM Modi have shown faith in me and have appointed me as the Karnataka Governor. I will live up to their expectations and do my job faithfully. I will try to resolve the issues within constitutional limits and with discussions," Gehlot said.

Apart from his cabinet portfolio and position as Leader of the House in Rajya Sabha, Gehlot is a member of the BJP's Parliamentary Board and the Central Election Committee. He is set to resign from all these posts on Wednesday before taking charge as Governor.

K'taka MPs wait for Delhi call as PM rejigs cabinet today

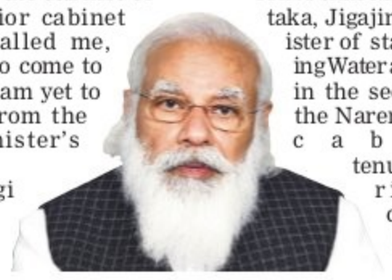
NAUSHAD BIJAPUR & G SUBHASH CHANDRA
@ Belagavi/Chitradurga

WITH 20 plus slots up for grabs in the Union Cabinet, and the reshuffle slated for Wednesday evening, several MPs from Karnataka are waiting, fingers crossed, for a phone call from the Prime Minister's Office.

A few MPs, including Narayana Swamy and Ramesh Jigajinagi, have already been asked to rush to New Delhi, ahead of D-Day.

Besides senior MPs, speculation is rife that a young MP from Karnataka, possibly Pratap Simha or Shobha Karandlaje, may make it to the cabinet, though they are yet to confirm whether they got a call from New Delhi.

Jigajinagi told The New Indian Express, "I am still not sure whether I would be inducted into the cabinet or not. A senior cabinet minister called me, asking me to come to Delhi, but I am yet to get a call from the Prime Minister's Office."



Jigajinagi further said he had learnt that Chitradurga MP Narayana Swamy was also contacted by a senior minister. He said it was unclear whether he or Narayana Swamy would be inducted into the cabinet, as both of them belong to the same caste (SC).

A five-time MP from Karnataka, Jigajinagi was minister of state for Drinking Water and Sanitation in the second half of the Narendra Modi 1.0 cabinet tenure. His experience and caste could come in handy to re-enter the Union cabinet.

With the demise of former Union Minister of State for Railways and Belagavi MP Suresh Angadi, sources said one of the MPs from Karnataka could be allotted the same portfolio. Shimoga MP B Y Raghavendra, son of Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa, is the favourite to get the portfolio if he is inducted into the cabinet, highly-placed sources said.

According to sources, Modi is keen to have some surprise faces in the cabinet, by giving a chance to young, educated leaders who have administrative experience, and who have the potential to make it big but are deprived of a chance. The cabinet reshuffle will also focus on poll-bound states and allies.

Meanwhile, Union Minister for Chemicals and Fertilisers D V Sadananda Gowda may be dropped to make way for a young leader, sources said, adding that Modi's team has discussed the induction of new MPs from Karnataka.

Another name doing the rounds is of Bidar MP Bhagwant Khuba, a Lingayat leader from the neglected Kalyan Karnataka region. He is supported by the RSS and BJP top brass.

It's official: 1% vacancies in govt jobs reserved for transgenders

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a move that can cheer the transgender community, the Karnataka government on Tuesday issued a notification extending internal reservation for transgenders in all direct recruitment for government jobs — 1 per cent of all vacancies under each category of General Merit, Scheduled Caste, Scheduled Tribe, and in each of the categories among Other Backward Classes will be reserved for transgenders henceforth.

Amendments to the Karnataka Civil Service (General Recruitment) Rules, 1977, also instruct recruiting authorities to provide a separate column to allow applicants to identify as 'others', instead of male or female. "...in all direct recruitment, one percentage of vacancies set apart for that method in each of the categories of General Merit, SC, ST and in each of the categories among Other Backward Classes, subject to any general instruction that may be issued by the government regarding the manner of appointment, be filled from among transgender candidates," the amendment read. The new rule will be inserted under Rule 9.

Karnataka will follow the definition of 'transgender person', as described in the Transgender Persons (Protection of Rights) Act, 2019, of the Union Government. As per the Act, a 'transgender person' is one whose gender does not match with the gender assigned to that person at birth, and includes transman or transwoman (whether or not such person has undergone sex reassignment surgery, hormone therapy, laser therapy or such other therapy), a person with intersex variations, gender queer and having such socio-cultural identities as kinner, hijra, aravani and jogta.

The amendment adds that if a sufficient number of eligible transgender persons are not available to fill up 1% of seats, the vacancies should be filled by male or female candidates of the same category. The official notification amending the Karnataka Civil Service (General Recruitment) Rules, 1977, was issued on Tuesday, less than a month after the government submitted the draft notification to the Karnataka High Court. Submission of the proposal to reserve jobs for the transgender community came about during the hearing of a PIL filed by Sangama, which works for the welfare of the transgender community.

Will contest from Badami in next polls, says Siddu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AMID speculation over his constituency, former Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Tuesday said he would contest the next assembly polls from Badami. In the 2018 elections, Siddaramaiah, then the sitting CM, had won from Badami and lost from Chamundeshwari, in his home district of Mysuru.

"Many leaders are inviting me to contest from their constituencies, but I will contest the next polls from Badami," he said, addressing a large number of people from Badami, who had come to his residence in Bengaluru, to urge him to contest from the constituency. "I had campaigned for just for one day, and the people of Badami elected me as their legislator. I will never forget that," he said. Siddaramaiah had won from Badami by a narrow margin against BJP's B Sriramulu, and lost from Chamundeshwari by over 36,000 votes against JDS leader GT Devegowda. Later, he had stated that he will not contest from Chamundeshwari again.

Siddaramaiah loyalist and Congress MLA Zameer Ahmed Khan had invited him to contest from his constituency, Chamarajpet, in Bengaluru. Khan recently projected Siddaramaiah as the next CM, resulting in a debate over the party's CM candidate which put the party in an embarrassing position. Apart from Khan, party leaders from Kolar and other places, too, have invited the former CM to contest from their districts.

K'taka among 8 states with high daily cases

8 districts major contributors; 2 dists have over 5% positivity rate; Health Ministry calls for more focused efforts

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA is amongst the eight states which contribute to 80 per cent of the fresh Covid-19 cases in the country. And, as per the statistics released by the Union Health Ministry on Tuesday, there are eight districts in the state which are still reporting new cases.

Speaking at a press conference, Lav Agarwal, Joint Secretary in the Health Ministry, said that the infection is now spreading in a localised manner. "Much of the country is seeing a reprieve from increasing daily case load, but there are patches where the infection is still spreading. This indicates that the infection is now spreading in a localised manner within a limited geographical area," he noted.

The statistics show that 80 per cent of the cases are being reported from 90 districts across the country. Maharashtra and Tamil Nadu have 15 districts each where the infection is spreading, followed by Kerala with 14 districts, Odisha 11, Andhra Pradesh 10 and Karnataka with eight districts with high rate of new Covid-19 cases.

Calling for focused attention in these areas, the Union Health Ministry has written to the states saying that they should ensure more attention is given to the districts reporting more new cases and not only ramp up vaccination in these places, but also ensure Covid-appropriate behavior is followed. The ministry has informed the states that RT-PCR testing must be scaled up to maximum possible levels while using Rapid Antigen Tests in under-served and rural areas and places where RT-PCR testing is not feasible.

"Violations of protocols can nullify the progress made so far. While the Delta-plus variant is known to be more transmissible, maintaining social distance, double masking and regular washing of hands still remain the key to defeat this virus," the head of the Indian Council for Medical Research, Dr Balram Bhargava, said.

Meanwhile, the test positivity rate in two districts of Karnataka — Kodagu and Hassan — still remains a matter of concern. As per the data from June 29 to July 5, the two districts have TPR of 6.76 per cent and 6.05 per cent respectively, which is higher than the World Health Organisation (WHO) recommended 5 per cent. Anything above 5 per cent is a cause for concern.

According to Dr C N Manjunath, Director, Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research, the state should also be monitoring the number of ICU admissions and death rates in these districts. "There will be a lag between admissions and death. If these are on the rise, it should be indicators that we need to pay more attention in these districts," he pointed out.

As economic activities have restarted in Karnataka, experts warn that the second wave of Covid-19 is not completely over and whatever has been achieved so far due to the lockdown may go waste and restrictions may be back in place to contain the Covid-19 spread.

"District-specific measures (regarding reopening) have to be guided by the positivity rate," said Dr Balram Bhargava, while stressing on the need to step up testing.

WORRYING SIGN

Uptick in fresh Covid-19 cases for 2nd straight day

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

JUST two days into Unlock 3.0, Karnataka's Covid-19 cases are witnessing an increase, begging attention to whether the state is heading towards the early signs of the dreaded third wave. From 1,564 cases reported on Sunday, the figure increased to 2,848 cases on Monday, while on Tuesday, 3,104 fresh cases were added to the tally, which stands at 28,59,595. While Bengaluru Urban district reported 715 cases, the next highest was Mysuru (389), followed by Hassan (270) and Dakshina Kannada (216).

As per the state war room data, cases had been on a decline — from 5,014 cases reported in mid-June to 3000-3,500 range by June-end. Although the figure dropped below 3,000 between July 2 and 5, the cases have risen again.

Experts believe that inter-state travel could be one of the reasons for the daily new cases not going below the 1000-mark. "As we share borders with other states like Kerala, Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu, where cases are currently high, the inter-state movement could be a reason for the increase in cases. Now, with the unlock phase and people travelling from different states, there could be a further rise in cases. Although the government has a protocol of negative RT-PCR certificates for Kerala returnees, we need to ensure that stringent border checks are being done," said a health expert on condition of anonymity.

The daily death figures too are seeing an upward trend. The state saw 59 deaths reported on July 4, but rose to 67 on July 5 and to 92 on Tuesday. Even in Bengaluru, which had been witnessing single-digit deaths over the past few days, 15 fatalities were reported on Tuesday. The mortality rate has been continuously increasing since May 9, from 0.97% to 1.24% as on Tuesday.

> As we share borders with states like Kerala, Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu, inter-state movement could be a reason for the increase in cases
> Health expert

A health expert, requesting anonymity, explained, "The deaths reported are from April, May and June, which are still being reported in the daily bulletin. Though the deaths have come down comparatively, the focus should be on reducing mortality rate below 1 per cent. If cases increase, the mortality rate will increase as well. The focus should be on bringing down the cases to less than three-digit figures all over the state."

Meanwhile, active cases have shown a decline from 65,312 on July 1 to 40,016 on Tuesday. Karnataka has the third highest number of active cases after Maharashtra (1,16,827) and Kerala (1,04,105). The state reported 4,992 discharges with the recovery rate touching 97.35%.

Evidence-based care vital to treat Covid patients, says study

RANJANI MADHAVAN @ Bengaluru

FEAR and anxiety among the public and physicians treating Covid-19 patients has resulted in clinical practices and hospital triage decisions which are not evidence-based and often detrimental, according to a new finding.

The Choosing Wisely initiative, comprising an 18-member team from public health, epidemiology, general practice, primary care, infectious disease, virology, critical care, internal medicine, and pulmonology has come up with recommendations to avoid unnecessary medical interventions and help patients and physicians choose care free from harm. The 10 recommendations, five of which are for the public and five for health workers, have been published in the journal Nature Medicine.

> Most patients can be managed at home and recover with regular monitoring of temperature and oxygen. Vaccination remains an effective population-level strategy for Covid prevention
> Study

Under the recommendation titled 'Do not prescribe unproven or ineffective therapies for Covid-19', the comment reads, "There are no data at present to support the use of Favipiravir, Ivermectin, Azithromycin, Doxycycline, Oseltamivir, Iopinavir-Ritonavir, Hydroxychloroquine, Itolizumab, Bevacizumab, IFN-2b, Fluvoxamine, Convalescent plasma or herbal preparations in the treatment of Covid-19. None of these are currently recommended by the WHO."

The committee also warned against use of Remdesivir and Tocilizumab, except in specific circumstances. Tocilizumab is useful only in patients who are severely ill, are receiving steroids, have signs of inflammation and have rapidly increasing requirements of oxygen. Remdesivir has marginal efficacy in shortening the time to recovery in adults, but does not decrease mortality. "Do use steroids prudently only in patients with hypoxia and monitor blood sugar levels to keep them in the normal range," the recommendations read.

Many of these deviations from evidence-based healthcare result in substantial harm, as they divert efforts and resources from outcome-based, data-driven best practices toward those that are of doubtful efficacy and are even harmful, the authors noted. They warned against routinely performing investigations that do not guide treatment, such as CT scans and inflammatory biomarkers.

B'luru institute developing software tool for zoonotic disease surveillance

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE post-Covid security infrastructure will involve beefing up of scientific and technical intelligence that will help in surveillance and early warning systems for health outbreaks that may impact lives and economy on a large scale in the country.

The Department of Bio-Technology, under the 'Establishment of a Consortium for One Health to address Zoonotic and Transboundary Diseases in India, including the Northeast Region,' has "approved a sampling plan and forecasting model for surveillance of infectious zoonotic diseases in humans by ICAR-NIVEDI, Bengaluru," said Principal Scientist, National Institute of Veterinary Epidemiology & Disease Informatics (NIVEDI), Dr K P Suresh.

"The first-of-its-kind intelligence software tool will be styled on National Animal Disease Referral Expert System-v2 (NADRES-v2), which was developed by the ICAR-NIVEDI five years ago as a surveillance and forewarning system for livestock disease management. It will be used for surveillance and forecasting of zoonotic diseases in humans such as coronaviruses, brucellosis, TB, coxiellosis, cryptosporidiosis, cysticercosis, Japanese Encephalitis, leptospirosis, scrub typhus and listeriosis," he said. The NADRES-v2 is real-time Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Machine Learning-enabled software which is used in forecasting of infectious livestock diseases two months in advance so as to prepare the stakeholders and help them initiate preventive measures.

"The National Centre for Disease Control, Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, had approached NIVEDI to develop a system to be used for forecasting of zoonotic diseases in humans," said Principal Scientist, NIVEDI, Dr Sharangouda Patil. Suresh and Patil are involved in developing the software application.

"The operational disease forewarning systems using AI, ML and data science are more feasible and economical to mitigate risk of epidemics, when the predictions are more precise and accurate," said Dr Suresh.

Sero-survey ahead of 3rd wave to track immunity levels

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE State Government is planning to conduct a sero-survey to ascertain the immunity levels and prevalence of anti-bodies against Covid-19 in people.

Speaking to reporters here on Tuesday, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta said discussions in this regard are still in the preliminary stage "We (BBMP) are also planning a similar survey in Bengaluru. But we will do it only if it is financially viable. The final decision rests with the government," he added.

"It will be a sample-based model. The idea is to gauge the level of anti-bodies and immunity among people against Covid-19. This is being done for the first time by the government," Gupta said. He said a paediatric committee will be constituted by the BBMP for better management of paediatric cases ahead of the possible third wave. "The details are being discussed... names are still being finalised," he said, adding that work is also being done to assess the preparedness of hospitals ahead of the third wave of Covid-19.

The BBMP is also trying to assess the exact population of children in the city. "Children will not be impacted in the third wave if the adult population is vaccinated. Close to 50 per cent of the adult population in the city has received at least one dose of the vaccine. By July-end, we aim to increase it to 70 per cent," Gupta said.

More labs will be used for genome sequencing amid fears of the Delta-plus variant. The Delta variant was not just prominent in Bengaluru, but across the world, he pointed out.

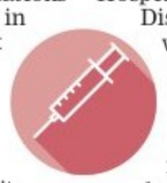
Vax shortage in Hubballi-Dharwad drives people to villages

ARUNKUMAR HURALIMATH @ Hubballi

WITH vaccination centres in the twin cities of Hubballi-Dharwad facing short supply of Covid-19 vaccine doses, people looking to get the jab are heading to rural areas where vaccines are more easily available. In Dharwad district, more than 15 lakh people are aged above 18 years, of which, 4.9 lakh have got their first dose and 1.01 lakh their second dose. The Health Department has been conducting vaccinations every day at 200 centres in urban and rural areas. It has also been organising vaccination drives in colleges for students before their offline classes begin.



However, in the twin cities, the supply of vaccines is not commensurate with the population size and long queues of people waiting to get the jab can be seen in front of the KIMS Hospital in Hubballi and the District Hospital in Dharwad. But, due to shortage, many people return without getting vaccinated every day.

So, many are now making a beeline to villages to get vaccinated before the third wave sets in. The district administration releases a list indicating vaccine availability at vaccine centres every day, and people select those which are in villages due to better supply there.

Siddesh Aladakatti, a businessman, said that as he could not get the vaccine in the city, he went to the Noolvi PHC near Hubballi, and got vaccinated.

A health official said that there is limited supply and huge demand in the district. As per the schedules, they send the vaccine doses to notified PHCs, UPHCs and hospitals. If they get the required number of doses, they will increase the supply to all health centres, he said.

Ch'nagar deaths: State to hike relief for kin

Rs 2L too less for oxygen tragedy victims

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE State Government on Tuesday informed the Karnataka High Court that it has decided to increase compensation for the family members of 13, out of the 24 Covid patients, who died due to a lack of oxygen at the district hospital in Chamarajanagar in May this year. The enhancement comes in view of the observations made by the court that Rs 2 lakh compensation is very less.

Advocate General Prabhuling K Navadagi informed a special division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Aravind Kumar that the government will pay an additional Rs 3 lakh ex-gratia, apart from the Rs 2 lakh already paid, to the kin of the three victims who died between 10.30 pm on May 2 and 2.20 am on May 3, while an additional Rs 2 lakh exgratia will be paid to the kin of the 10 other victims, who lost their lives between 2.21 am and 9 am on May 3.

He told the court that the government will wait for the report of the Commission of Inquiry for payment of additional compensation to the 11 other victims, who died before 10.30 pm on May 2, in addition to Rs 2 lakh already paid to their kin.

Recording the same, the court asked the government to consider that the benefit of enhancement of additional compensation be extended to the 11 others as well.

It may be noted that the committee of the Karnataka State Legal Services Authority submitted a report, confirming that the death of the 24 patients occurred due to a lack of oxygen.

'Twitter MD must appear for questioning'

He argued that the company must nominate a person to represent it, to fix responsibility, as required under the new IT Rules.

Prasanna said Maheshwari's contention that he may be arrested if he appeared before the police does not hold good as arrest is not required in all cases. But he has to appear and answer questions as a representative of the company, he added.

He said that Twitter India should have some responsibility over its platform in the country as its parent, Twitter Inc, has millions of account holders and followers and cannot be led without a head. All that is needed is for the company to send a representative to answer the police, he added.

He argued that the place of residence of the petitioner is not a criterion to approach the Karnataka High Court, as the Loni border police issued the notice. He said that investigation through video-conference will lose its effectiveness and physical appearance of the petitioner is a must.

Senior advocate CV Nagesh, representing Maheshwari, argued that since his client is an employee of Twitter India and a resident of Bengaluru, he approached the Karnataka High Court. Arguing that TCIPL does not have control over services offered by Twitter Inc, he said that the petitioner was neither acquainted with nor informed about the case.

He submitted that Maheshwari will appear before the police if an undertaking is given that he will not be arrested. He said there is a hidden agenda behind the UP police action as they issued a notice to Maheshwari, though his name is not mentioned as accused in the FIR.

He argued that it was for the company to nominate a representative to appear before the police. The arguments are scheduled to continue on Wednesday.

During its last hearing, the High Court had passed an interim order restraining the UP police from taking coercive action against Maheshwari.

Minister's PA files police complaint

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A complaint has been filed by Cooperation Minister ST Somashekhar's personal assistant, stating that a fake Facebook profile has been created in the minister's name, and derogatory posts against the BJP and its leaders are being uploaded.

The minister's PA, Chethan GS, lodged a complaint with the Central Cyber Crimes, Economic Offences, & Narcotic cases (CEN) police station, on Monday. He has alleged in the complaint that a fake Facebook profile was created in the minister's name by an unidentified person, who has brought disrepute to the minister by uploading derogatory posts against the BJP and its leaders.

"Besides, the person has also asked others in his friends list to transfer money misusing the minister's name, and has tried to cheat people," he alleged in the complaint.

The police have registered an FIR under the provisions of the IT Act and the IPC.

SIT COMPLETES PROBE IN CD CASE

ENS @ Belagavi

THE SIT investigating the sex CD case involving former minister Ramesh Jarkiholi, on Tuesday informed the Karnataka High Court that it had completed investigation and the final report was prepared and ready. However, the court sought an English version of the investigative report before July 14.

According to sources, the hearing into the CD case has been adjourned to July 14 by the High Court.

On the other side, tensions are rising in the Jarkiholi family and its supporters in Gokak, as they wait to see Ramesh get a clean chit in the case. Only if the B-report is filed and case is closed, can Jarkiholi expect to be re-inducted into the cabinet.

The Jarkiholi brothers had announced last week that they planned to hold a joint press conference in Gokak, but did not do so, with the hearing into the CD case slated for July 14, sources said. The brothers are confident that Ramesh will get a clean chit.

INTER-STATE WATER DISPUTE

K'taka CM firm on Mekedatu, hopes for peace

Things are favourable for us, there is no question of halting project, says Yediyurappa

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister BS Yediyurappa on Tuesday asserted that Karnataka will go ahead and implement the Mekedatu balancing reservoir-cum-drinking water project. Speaking to reporters on Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin's response to his letter on the project, Yediyurappa said he was hoping for coordination and cordial relations between the two states.

"Karnataka will implement the Mekedatu project across river Cauvery, and people of the state should have no doubts about it. Things are favourable for us in this regard, there is no question of halting it. We will implement the project within the legal framework and no one can stop it," he said.

Last week, Yediyurappa had written to Stalin, appealing that Tamil Nadu should not oppose the project since it was beneficial to citizens of both riparian states. In response, Stalin had asked Yediyurappa to drop the project, deeming it harmful for Tamil Nadu farmers. "I had requested the Chief Minister (of Tamil Nadu) not to oppose it, in good spirit, as it will benefit both states, but for some reasons, his response was not encouraging. Even then, we will implement the project," Yediyurappa reiterated.

State's Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister Basavaraj Bommai, too, had said on Monday that Karnataka will continue its legal battle with regard to implementation of the Mekedatu project, as Yediyurappa's letter to his Tamil Nadu counterpart urging him not to object to it, did not elicit a positive response.

Karnataka has maintained that the project will benefit both states as the surplus water stored can be managed between the two during the distress year, and its implementation will in no way affect the interests of the farming communities of Tamil Nadu. Tamil Nadu is of the view that the project would "impound and divert" the uncontrolled water flow due to Tamil Nadu from Kabini sub-basin, the catchment area below Krishnarajasagara, and also from Shimsha, Arkavathy and Suvarnavathi sub-basins, besides other small streams.

Mekedatu is a multipurpose (drinking and power) project, which involves building a balancing reservoir, near Kanakapura.

Project won't take off without TN concurrence: Minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

IN a breather for Tamil Nadu in the ongoing inter-State water dispute with Karnataka, Union Minister for Jal Shakti, Gajendra Singh Shekhawat, assured the former that the Mekedatu project cannot take off without its concurrence.

According to the State's Minister for Water Resources, Durai Murugan, the Centre has also said that steps will be taken to constitute a tribunal to investigate the dam built across the Markandeya river. He was speaking to reporters in New Delhi after meeting the Union Minister. It is learnt that during the meeting, TN had stressed that no clearance should be given for the proposed Mekedatu project without the concurrence of co-basin States. The Centre was also requested to advise Karnataka not to proceed with any activity regarding the project. He also urged the Centre to constitute a tribunal and to advise Karnataka to stop all ongoing works in the basin.

Besides, he handed over a representation to Shekhawat, raising various issues and demands related to the State's water resources. Some of the key demands are to advise the Karnataka government to immediately clear the deficit and release water to TN as per the schedule fixed by Supreme Court, and advise the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) to take appropriate action to ensure the realisation of water at Biligundlu. The minister also urged the Centre to appoint a full-time chairman, at the earliest, to carry out necessary works of the CWMA. The representation also said that TN was carrying out the Repair, Renovation and Restoration of water bodies, and the Central share of ₹44.48 crore towards the same was yet to be released.

Durai Murugan said that demand for fund allocation towards the Cauvery-Gundaru River Linking project was also discussed. He also asked for funds and permission to carry out the Tamiraparani-Karumeniyar-Nambiar linking project to enable TN to complete the scheme.

'PM wishing Dalai Lama a message for China'

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday morning called the Dalai Lama and wished him on his 86th birthday. "It is the first time that an Indian Prime Minister phoned the Dalai Lama on his birthday. It's a great message for China at a time of renewed tensions on the Line of Actual Control (LAC). It is a message for the Tibetans that India cares for the Dalai Lama and the Tibetan people," said the well-known Tibetologist Claude Arpi.

The Dalai Lama, in a video message posted on Facebook, thanked all his well-wishers. "I want to express my deep appreciation to all my friends, who showed me love, respect and trust. For myself, for the rest of my life, I am committed to serving humanity and protection of climate condition," said the Dalai Lama.

He added that since he became a "refugee and settled in India, I have fully utilized India's freedom and religious harmony. I really appreciate India's concept of secular values with honesty, karuna (compassion) and ahimsa (non-violence). I am committed to non-violence and compassion until my death. I hope all my human brothers and sisters will also keep non-violence and compassion till their death," said the Nobel laureate and the highest spiritual leader of Tibet.

Meanwhile, the Tibetans living in exile in Bengaluru and the five settlements in Karnataka on Tuesday celebrated the 86th birthday of His Holiness the Dalai Lama. Karnataka has the biggest Tibetan settlements in the world - at Bylakuppe and Hunsur in Mysuru district, Kollegal in Chamarajanagar district and Mundgod in Karwar district.

"Every year we celebrate His Holiness' birthday with group prayers, chanting of 'Om Mani Padmi Hum' - one of the most revered Buddhist mantras - a thousand times, cutting of cake, singing and dancing among other festivities. This year, because of the Covid restrictions, we had limited the festivities to smaller groups," said the Chief Representative, South India, Central Tibetan Administration (in exile) Thupten Tsering.

Savadi's son claims he was 30km away

THE police have detained Hanumanth Singh Rajput, who was said to be driving the car at the time of accident.

Chidanand told The New Indian Express, "I admit that the car that hit the rider belongs to me. But I was travelling in my friend's car with a couple of my friends. We were 30 km ahead of my car. As soon as I heard about the accident, I tried to rush to the spot, but by then my friends had arranged for an ambulance and the injured had been shifted to the hospital."

He said, "I have no idea who damaged the number plates of my car, but I didn't do that. A few villagers tried to throw stones at us. I will meet the family members of the deceased soon and try to help them financially. I will cooperate with the police during the investigation."

Mangalappa Balabatti, a relative of the deceased farmer, said, "Even after 16 hours of the accident, neither DCM Savadi nor his son Chidanand made a courtesy phone call to the victim's family. Chidanand demands evidence to prove that he is guilty. But that is not our job. The police have to investigate the accident without coming under any political pressure. Eyewitnesses said that Chidanand was driving the car, but the police have detained his driver."

He said, "Kudaleppa was the sole breadwinner of the family. He has five children and two of them are yet to be married. We will meet the superintendent of police and demand justice."

SP Lokesh Jagalasar said, "A case has been registered based on the statements of family members and eyewitnesses. No one in the car was intoxicated. When the police reached the spot, Chidanand, his friends and the driver were with villagers. They left the spot after the injured was shifted to the ambulance. We are investigating the case."

Papanaidupet glass beads lose sheen to Chinese ones

SRI KRISHNA KUMMARA @ Tirupati

THE traditional glass beads manufacturing units of Papanaidupet village in Chittoor district are finding it increasingly difficult to stay afloat amid stiff competition from Chinese beads flooding the market.

The glass beads are used in making bangles and artificial jewellery. The beads having good demand are generally exported to Mumbai, Delhi and Kolkata.

The number of manufacturing units in Papanaidupet has come down from 54 to less than 10 as several units have been wound up unable to face the stiff competition from Chinese beads. Consequently, several villagers engaged in the cottage industry for their livelihood have been affected.

Speaking to TNIE, Shaik Babu (69), who runs a bead manufacturing unit, said, "We make beads of different shapes and sizes. Glass stone used for making beads is procured from Firozabad in Uttar Pradesh. At least eight workers need to be employed to manufacture beads, which go through several processes. The workers are paid up to ₹1,000 a day depending on the volume of work. Workers who do less volume of work, get ₹500 a day as wages. We get ₹2,500 per bag of the end product."

With Chinese beads flooding the market, which come at a low price, the demand for glass beads of Papanaidupet has slumped, resulting in closure of several manufacturing units. The number of work orders has come down as only a small group of traders still prefers glass beads to Chinese beads despite the cost factor, he added.

"With no work, several villagers engaged in manufacturing glass beads, have started working in nearby factories to eke out a living. Others have become construction workers for their survival. Youngsters of the village have started showing reluctance to learn the age old art of making glass beads due to bleak prospects to the cottage industry," rued owner of another unit. "With whatever orders we get, we run the units with the old masters who know the art of making glass beads, to continue the tradition," he said with a hope for revival.

SWIGGY, ZOMATO MUST LEARN TO COEXIST WITH RESTAURANTS

It is indeed ironic that delivery vendors for food outlets and restaurants should be hauled up before the Competition Commission of India by the businesses they are supposed to be partnering and benefiting. But that is exactly what has happened. The National Restaurant Association of India has alleged a host of 'monopolistic practices' by online delivery chains Zomato and Swiggy and demanded that the fair trade regulator initiate a probe. Among the various 'anti-competitive' practices alleged include forcing restaurants to give deep discounts if they want to continue being listed. This is hurting normal physical footfalls in restaurants and making businesses unremunerative. Further, these food aggregators are known to charge high commissions on a per-order basis, and they have been opaque with delivery and customer data.

Two major developments have swung the pendulum away from food and restaurant services, in favour of the delivery aggregators. First, the lockdowns over the last 15 months have shut families up at home, and ensured that the only way to eat an alternate meal is by ordering in via online delivery. Second, the food delivery aggregator business, because of the huge investments involved, has seen the smaller players pushed out, leaving only the big cats—Zomato and Swiggy.

Who can compete with a Zomato, which is in the process of raising over ₹9,000 crore through an IPO? Meanwhile, smaller but competitive players like Scootsy have been swallowed up by Swiggy. It is therefore necessary that the Competition Commission should step in to ensure that the restaurant and food businesses don't shut down because of unfair and monopolistic practices by online delivery chains. For the likes of Zomato and Swiggy too, there must be a realisation that they depend on the F&B industry for growth and profits, and if they squeeze the latter too hard, it will amount to killing the golden goose. In the longer term, the answer lies in gradually restoring restaurant dining. Food parcels at home cannot replace the joy of an evening out with the family; and hopefully it won't be long before restaurants and home deliveries learn to coexist as before.

PADAYATRA POLITICS IN TELANGANA

Though elections to the Telangana Assembly are still two years away, a sense of deja vu is already prevailing. The leaders of both the BJP and Congress, the two principal opposition parties, are raring to undertake padayatras to capture power in Telangana, a la Y S Rajasekhara Reddy, N Chandrababu Naidu and Y S Jagan Mohan Reddy in 2003, 2012 and 2017 respectively. The padayatras took the three leaders to almost cult status and they came to power; hence, the law of the padayatra has come to stay.

Now, BJP state president Bandi Sanjay Kumar is getting ready for a 750 km, 55-day padayatra from the Bhagya Lakshmi temple in Hyderabad to Huzurabad in Karimnagar district where a by-election is due. Summoning the spirit of the Quit India movement, he has drawn up an elaborate map for his padayatra, which begins on August 9. The aim is to shore up, in the near term, the prospects of his party in the Huzurabad bypoll—where it is challenging the ruling party with Eatala Rajender who resigned as a TRS MLA and joined the saffron brigade recently. It is a no-brainer that the BJP's bigger game-plan is to defeat K Chandrashekar Rao in the 2023 Assembly elections.

A few days earlier, immediately after his appointment as PCC President, A Revanth Reddy announced that subject to the approval of the Congress high command, he wants to take out a padayatra from Alampur to Adilabad. It is obvious that a politician takes out a padayatra to impress upon the people that he is a force to reckon with. It also has a psychological impact that despite the physical pain a politician suffers, he is trying to reach out to the people. But if the people want to look beyond the TRS, would they choose the BJP or Congress? And there is also the possibility that voters may prove the padayatra law wrong by staying with KCR.

The unwillingness of the Nehru-Gandhis to accord Rao his rightful place among the country's great prime ministers has made the Congress look ungrateful

A GRATEFUL NATION REMEMBERS NARASIMHA RAO

AMIT BANDRE

A SURYA PRAKASH
Former Chairman, Prasar Bharati and Scholar, Democracy Studies

While the Indian National Congress chose to largely ignore the birth centenary celebrations of former Prime Minister P V Narasimha Rao, PM Narendra Modi, the Telangana government and several other individuals and institutions paid handsome tributes to the man who ensured a spectacular turnaround for India's economy and adopted tough measures to safeguard the country's unity and integrity.

Narasimha Rao became prime minister in June 1991, when the country was passing through several crises. His predecessor government had pledged gold to a foreign bank to raise $200 million to tide over a foreign exchange crisis and the economic outlook looked grim.

Rao realised that unless the socialist policies pursued by the Nehru-Gandhis for decades were discarded and the Indian market was opened up to foreign direct investment, there was little hope of economic recovery. He chose Dr Manmohan Singh, a political novice, as his finance minister and provided him the necessary cover to shield him from attacks from socialists, Marxists and Congressmen loyal to the family. Rao took all the flak and allowed Singh to do his job. Such was Rao's resolve that when he died in 2004, the country's forex reserves had crossed $140 billion.

Another monster at the door was the rise of secessionist forces in Punjab, leading to large-scale killings and terrorist activities in that state and in the nation's capital. Just as he backed Singh in regard to economic reform, he backed the Punjab chief minister and the top cop K P S Gill to end militancy in that state, undeterred by the whiners in the party and outside. The militants were wiped out and the country's unity and integrity remained intact.

These were two problems that Rao inherited, apart from several others, that seemed particularly insurmountable. The mood in the country was one of gloom and doom. Rao's ascendancy to the office of prime minister had happened unexpectedly, following the tragic assassination of Rajiv Gandhi on 21 May 1991 in the midst of a Lok Sabha election after the premature end of the Chandra Shekhar government. The Congress party had not given him a ticket to contest that election and Rao was all set to pack his bags and return to Hyderabad. In the second week of May 1991 when this writer visited him, the packers were already at work. Asked what his plans were, he said he would get down to doing what had been on his "to do" list for a long time, including the writing of a political novel. He was however wondering as to how he would find the place to accommodate his books when he returned to his initial karmabhoomi.

But everything changed dramatically for Rao and the Congress on the night of May 21 when the news of the assassination trickled in. Party leaders beseeched him to stay back in his Motilal Nehru Marg residence and a majority of them decided to back him after Sonia Gandhi declined to accept the presidency of the party. Sharad Pawar was the other contender, but the leaders supported Rao. After the results came in and the Congress party ended up with 232 seats, falling short of 50 seats for a majority, Rao used all his diplomatic skills to get several other parties to pledge support and formed the government. He took oath as prime minister exactly a month after Rajiv's assassination.

> By wholeheartedly acknowledging the contribution of Rao, Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Chief Minister of Telangana K Chandrashekar Rao have fully exposed the small-mindedness of the Nehru-Gandhis. More importantly, they have shown that while that family is ungrateful, the nation is not Rao, through his Chanakya Neeti, steered the country from this phase of hopelessness to hope. That is why this writer has, on an earlier occasion, described him as the Prophet of Boom!

The unwillingness of the Nehru-Gandhis to accord Rao his rightful place among the country's great prime ministers has made the Congress look like an ungrateful party. On the other hand, Vice President M Venkaiah Naidu, who grew up politically in a non-Congress environment, described Rao as "an astute administrator, statesman, visionary and the undisputed torchbearer of economic reforms in India". Narendra Modi, who is the leader of the BJP, has shown much more grace by acknowledging Rao's "extensive contributions to national development". Similarly, the Telangana government's decision to launch a year-long centenary celebration last year that culminated in a grand event on 28 June 2021 is worthy of commendation.

By wholeheartedly acknowledging the contribution of Rao, the vice president, the prime minister and the chief minister of Telangana have fully exposed the small-mindedness of the Nehru-Gandhis. More importantly, they have shown that while that family is ungrateful, the nation is not.

P V Subhas, grandson of Rao, has demanded an apology from the Congress for not conducting the former PM's centenary at the national and international level and limiting it to Telangana. The Congress party's decision to confine the event to Telangana was to ensure continuing insult to one of India's greatest prime ministers. It was in line with the manoeuvres pertaining to his last rites when he passed away in 2004. The family ensured that the gates of the party headquarters were locked when the cortege carrying Rao's body came there. It also insisted that his cremation be held not in Delhi but in Hyderabad, in the hope that this would diminish his stature. But that ploy has clearly failed.

Those who wonder why the Congress party is slowly withering away and becoming a caricature of itself can find answers in the contempt that the Nehru-Gandhis, who virtually own and control the party, have shown towards stalwarts like Rao. Will this ever change? Unlikely, so long as the family runs it, the party will remain a mom and son show.

TRAIN FROM FINLAND & EXCITEMENT ABOUT RAIL FREIGHT

HINDOL SENGUPTA
VP & Head of Research at Invest India, GoI's national investment promotion agency

Even as you read this, something exciting is happening. A special train is snaking its way from Finland to India. From Helsinki to Mumbai (at the Nhava Sheva port) in just about 22-25 days.

This freight train is carrying paper products for a Swedish company, but it is not so much what it is carrying that is important as the fact that this journey is being made at all. This is no ordinary train ride.

This journey opens a historic new route for transporting goods via rail between Europe and India via Russia, Azerbaijan and Iran. This route not only reduces the freight transport distance between Russia and India from around 40 days to approximately two weeks, but also provides an alternative to the traditional sea route through the Suez Canal.

It is part of something called the International North-South Transport Corridor (INSTC), which seeks to build transport routes that connect Central Asia, Europe, Iran, Russia and India. It seeks to build multi-modal transport linkages and systems that bring closer together a region of great energy and commodities producers with its consumers, and connect cities like Mumbai, Baku (capital of Azerbaijan), Moscow, Astrakhan (in southern Russia), Tehran and others more intricately in trade. Two test runs had been done in 2014—Mumbai to Baku, and Mumbai to Astrakhan—which had shown that significant benefits in costs and speed could be achieved using such routes. Other routes involving Turkmenistan and Kazakhstan are also being considered.

This project is part of the overall push for rail freight to go to places it has not before. In the last one year (June 2020-21), according to government data, freight loaded by Indian railways rose from 93.59 million tonnes to 112.65 million tonnes, and its earnings increased from ₹8,892.68 crore to ₹11,186.81 crore.

This growth is on the back of a major push to use the full capacity of India's railway prowess as one of the world's biggest passenger and freight networks. The country's railway networks carry 1.2 billion tonnes of freight each year across a 68,000-kilometre network.

Whether in reinvigorating railway ties with Nepal, building dedicated freight corridors at home or moving to a more sustainable energy-based railway system with the increasing use of electricity, rail freight has been an area of much action in recent times. Even in the middle of the pandemic, the Indian railways was able to complete the work of dismantling and reconstructing the Valsad road overbridge on the Western Dedicated Freight Corridor in Gujarat in a record 20 days.

> Under the bedazzlement of technological advancements and a profusion of mobile apps, artificial intelligence and other such wonders, the basic brick-and-mortar changes in the economy often do not receive due attention even though reform in these areas is key to transforming the economy. The historic new route between Europe and India is part of the overall push for rail freight to go to places it has not before

A recent report from the government think tank NITI Aayog has suggested that the progressive shift of freight traffic to the railways would significantly lower India's logistics costs and make it more sustainable as the railways themselves become greener. This is reversing the old trend of declining freight share of rail travel versus road. India's road networks need decongesting and rail-based freight travel is easier, faster and cleaner. Fewer trucks mean decreased emissions, and, as the report suggests, better, cleaner freight logistics could assist India in cutting emissions by 10 giga tonnes of carbon dioxide, 500 kilo tonnes of particulate matter and 15 million tonnes of nitrogen oxide by 2050.

With the pandemic, around the world, new, sustainable logistics routes are being constructed to boost supply chain resilience—not just from natural obstacles but also political ones, as sea routes become more contested.

I wanted to write on rail freight in this column because under the bedazzlement of technological advancements and a profusion of mobile apps, artificial intelligence, machine learning, a SaaS (software-as-a-service) boom and other such wonders, often the basic brick-and-mortar changes in the economy get drowned. They do not receive due attention even though reform in these areas is key to transforming the economy.

Railways is close to my heart because my father is a retired railway man, and I have felt for a long time that its potential is yet to be fully utilised in the country. There has, in the last few years, been a lot of change in the railways—basic things like fixing sanitation, stations and getting new trains that create the railways experience as that, 'an experience', rather than merely travel. This is particularly relevant in a country that has some of the most scenic routes in the world and a vast network.

But even in this conversation, the focus remains on the more glamorous part—passenger transport. The change of ambition in rail freight is, in a sense, as exciting, and understanding what it could bring to India in terms of logistical, strategic and environmental benefits must be properly contextualised and understood.

Travesty of justice

This is with reference to Stan Swamy and the murder of justice (Jul 6). The sad demise of Father Stan Swamy is heartbreaking. The great man who spent his entire life fighting for tribals and the downtrodden was unjustly put in prison due to forged accusations. His many bail pleas on medical grounds were rejected. This is a travesty of justice and a disgrace to our democratic nation. This seems to be an alarming sign of the growing intolerance in the nation.
Joseph Kochuparambil, Kannur

Death a matter of regret

It is a matter of regret that Fr Stan was detained without trial for nearly nine months. It is also sad that he collapsed due to lack of proper medical care. In our judicial system, even prisoners are accorded basic needs. Even someone sentenced to death would be rushed to the hospital if very ill. In this backdrop, this incident is quite horrific.
P Kalpana, Thiruvananthapuram

Death of humanism

Father Stan's death signifies the death of humanism in the country as repeated appeals for his bail fell on deaf ears. No wonder India seems to keep slipping down every year on the International Human Rights Index. It is a sad end for a crusader who, it is widely believed, was falsely implicated in the case.
C V Aravind, Bengaluru

Is this fair?

It is unfortunate that Fr Stan died during judicial custody. But we must also ponder upon whether it is fair on the part of a senior citizen like him to allegedly indulge in anti-national activities and ask for leniency when the law catches up to him, citing ill health. Is this fair?
D V Madhava Rao, Bengaluru

Not deprived of treatment

While Fr Stan Swamy's death is sad, how can we say it was a murder of justice? The Bombay High Court had asked the State of Maharashtra to shift him to the JJ Hospital for treatment in response to his bail plea. But Stan Swamy was unwilling to go and insisted upon bail only. It is on record that he said that he would rather die in jail than go to that hospital. He was not deprived of treatment. Calling this a 'murder' of justice seems uncalled for. One must also remember that his death does not absolve him of his crimes, alleged or otherwise.
C V S Pillai, Haripad

It is not a consumer item

This is with reference to The perpetual pursuit of happiness (Jul 6). Happiness is contagious, but man does not seem ready to understand that it is not a consumer item. It is not available in a beach, park or market. It cannot be measured. Happiness can be identified not with the brain, but with the heart.
P Antony, email

Spreading happiness to all

Kudos to the author for defining the concept of happiness aptly. Everyone deserves happiness. Politicians and the better privileged are blessed with the ability to pass happiness along to others, but unfortunately, people very seldom engage in this task. Let us all work together to change this mindset and spread happiness to all.
S K Prakash, Chennai

Why disallow MP visit?

The Lakshadweep administration has rejected the application of Congress MPs to visit the islands. If there is nothing to hide and everything is fine in the day-to-day administration of the islands, why disallow the MPs from visiting?
Dr George Jacob, Kochi

Remove them from posts

The Supreme Court's decision to hear the case against the MLAs who vandalised the Kerala Assembly in 2015 is highly appreciated. MLAs are considered the custodians of the law of the land. Yet, they were the ones who threatened its peace. The court should ensure they are removed from their constitutional posts and debarred from contesting elections for at least 10 years.

JD-U hopes to get two Cabinet berths in ministry rejig

Nitish-led party wanted five berths, including two MoS, but PM Modi and BJP leaders are reported to have agreed to only three ministers

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @Patna

IT is almost certain that Bihar's ruling JD-U will join the Union cabinet when Prime Minister Modi expands his ministry likely Thursday.

Speculation is rife in political circles on how many JD-U MPSs would be accommodated. Sources said the party had demanded five berths — three of cabinet rank and two in the minister of state rank. "But the two sides could not work it out. The PM and other senior BJP leaders are learnt to have agreed in principle on giving the cabinet rank to two JD-U members and one the rank of a state minister," an NDA source in Patna said.

The JD-U, a part of the ruling NDA in Bihar aliong with the BJP, wants to go by 'proportional representation' with due weightage being given to the seats it won in the 2020 assembly polls as well as its strength in the Lok Sabha.

Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar confirmed JD-U's claims. "There is no problem in being a part of the Union cabinet. But who will be the minister (s) will be decided by the Prime Minister. The JD-U's representation will be decided by RCP Singh, the new national president of the party."

The chief minister denied having any "formula" for the JD-U representation. "Modi ji is the Prime Minister and he has the right to make anybody a minister," he said.

'Uncle can't be a minister from LJP'

Amid buzz of his uncle Pashupati Paras getting a berth in the Union cabinet, Chirag Paswan on Tuesday urged the PM that nobody from the breakaway faction should be taken from the LJP quota, otherwise they would go to court. He said Paras can be made a minister as an Independent, but not as a member of the LJP.

When Modi formed his first cabinet team in his second term in 2019, the JD-U failed to get any berth, upsetting Nitish who had then said that his party would not join the Union cabinet without getting 'proportional representation'.

Sources said minor differences were being sorted out on the demands of ministries sought by the ruling JD-U. The party has reportedly been demanding Railways and Industry portfolios, in particular.

All JD-U MPs reached New Delhi on Tuesday as the Union cabinet expansion speculation went around.

LJP rebel MP from Hajipur, Pashupati Kumar Paras, the estranged uncle of Chirag Paswan, is also likely to be inducted as a minister of state. He has also reached Delhi after getting a call on Monday from Home Minister Amit Shah.

The JD-U has 16 Lok Sabha MPs from Bihar while the BJP has 17 and the LJP 6.

BJP faces 2 vacancies with Gehlot exit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE exit of Union minister Thawarchand Gehlot from the government has opened up positions of leader of the House in the Rajya Sabha and the parliamentary board of the BJP.

The BJP seemingly is sticking with the 75-year age ceiling, as Gehlot, 73, was given an honourable exit from the government as the new Karnataka governor. The party will now look for a new leader of the House in the Rajya Sabha.

BJP chief J P Nadda is also a Rajya Sabha MP. However, the party may choose to send out a political message with its choice of the leader of the House, a position which requires working closely with the floor leaders of the Opposition parties for peaceful conduct of the business of the Upper House.

Thawarchand Gehlot (right) will head to Bengauru Raj Bhavan | SHEKHAR YADAV

Dushyant Gautam, Rajya Sabha MP, and Ram Shankar Katheria, Lok Sabha MP from Etawah constituency in Uttar Pradesh, are fancying their chances to step into the shoes of Gehlot.

The BJP's Parliamentary Board will now have five vacancies, caused by the absence of former Union Ministers Sushma Swaraj, Arun Jaitley, Ananth Kumar and with M Venkaiah Naidu and Gehlot becoming Vice-President and governor respectively. The BJP will soon unveil the new members in parliamentary board, which is considered to be the highest decision making body of the party.

Currently there are seven members in th parliamentary board — Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Nadda, Union ministers Amit Shah, Rajnath Singh, and Nitin Gadkari, Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan and BJP national general secretary (Organisation) B L Santhosh.

With no woman being a member, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman is a likely entrant to the coveted club. The BJP will also be looking for a scheduled caste or tribal leader in its parliamentary board.

Rejig could have good number of MoS

THE reshuffle is likely to involve a good number of ministers of state ranks besides filling a few Cabinet berths. Among those who would most probably make it are Jyotiraditya Scindia, Sarbananda Sonowal and Narayan Rane. Apart from allies like the JD (U) and the LJP, Anupriya Patel of Apna Dal is likely to get a berth. BJP MP Jamyang Tsering Namgyal from Ladakh is also seen as a ministerial hopeful.

Caste arithmetic matters in the scheme of things, as the BJP pointed out that of the eight women Governors and Lt Governors it has appointed since 2014, five belong to the SC, ST, OBC and minority communities. That math will be part of the larger strategy for ministerial expansion so to balance social equations and state representations with an eye on elections next year.

With the PM having clearly shown his preference for professionals in his team like S Jaishankar and Hardeep Puri, a surprise entry from outside politics isn't ruled out.

From the JD (U), Rajeev Ranjan Singh and R C P Singh are seen to be in the reckoning for the berths.

A few of the ministers are likely to be dropped following their performance appraisal, while key loyalists of Union home minister Amit Shah, including Anil Jain and Bhupender Yadav, are being seen as hopefuls to join the government. Portfolios like Commerce, Industry, Food and Consumer Affairs, Food processing, Social Justice, Civil Aviation, I&B are up for grabs, while changing ministries of a few ministers is also not ruled out.

Twitter can't take as long as it wants: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Delhi High Court on Tuesday took a grim view of Twitter India's lackadaisical approach to the non-appointment of a resident grievance officer, a requirement under the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules, 2021 (IT Rules, 2021). "If Twitter thinks it can take as long it wants in our country, I will not allow that," Justice Rekha Palli said.

"The intermediaries were given three months to comply with the rules from February 26 onwards. It has been 41 days of non-compliance by Twitter," the Centre submitted.

Senior advocate Sajjan Poovayya, appearing for Twitter said, "The appointed grievance officer resigned... We are in the process of appointing a new officer."

However, the bench said Twitter cannot go on taking as long as it wants. The court asked the social media giant to revert on how long it will take to appoint a new grievance officer. Twitter sought a day's time to respond to this query after which the HC slated the next hearing for Tuesday.

"Twitter has given the court the wrong impression. The least you could have done after his (interim officer's) resignation is appointing another person," the bench said.

The high court said that no protection will be provided to Twitter and the government is free to take action against the company. Non-compliance with the IT rules has already resulted in Twitter losing the immunity available to it under Section 79(1) of the IT Act, 2000. "We have already made it clear that if Twitter wants to function in India, they know what to do," the court said.

Meanwhie, the Centre has filed a plea before the Supreme Court seeking transfer of all petitions challenging the constitutionality of the IT Act from various high courts to the apex court.

Germany lifts ban on travellers

New Delhi: Germany has lifted the ban on travellers from India and four other countries hit by the Delta variant of Covid-19. The Robert Koch Institute, Germany's premier health agency, said India, Nepal, Russia, Portugal and the UK, currently listed as 'virus variant' countries, would be reclassified from Wednesday as 'high-incidence' areas. The change will enable travellers who are not German residents or citizens to enter as long as they observe quarantine and testing rules. Germany introduced its 'virus variant' travel category in a bid to stop new coronavirus variants that have not yet spread widely on home soil. But Health Minister Jens Spahn said last week the Delta variant was fast becoming dominant in Germany, meaning ban on travellers from countries hit by that variant may be lifted.

Maha seeks 3 cr vax per month

Mumbai: Both the Houses of the Maharashtra legislature on Tuesday passed unanimous resolutions asking the Centre to provide a minimum of three crore Covid-19 vaccine doses per month to the state so that a third wave can be avoided and economic activities revived. Speaking in the assembly, Health Minister Rajesh Tope, who moved the resolutions in both Houses, said the state machinery can vaccinate 10 lakh people per day provided doses were available. "With this number, we can vaccinate three crore people in the next two months. Expediting vaccination drive is necessary for the economic revival as well," he said. As per the resolution, the centre has so far provided 2,84,39,060 doses.

Hill stations can wait, warns govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

UNDERLINING that 73 districts in India are still reporting higher than 10% Covid-19 test positivity rate, the government on Tuesday issued a fresh warning saying the second wave is still not over.

It cautioned people against thronging hill stations and not maintaining Covid appropriate behaviour as reports of thousands undertaking 'revenge travel' emerge.

Of the 73 districts reporting alarming test positivity rates, the highest 18 are in Arunachal Pradesh in the Northeast, the region with the worst Covid-19 situation at present. Rajasthan with 10 such districts is not far behind. The other N-E states reporting worrying positivity rate are Manipur, Tripura, Meghalaya and Nagaland. Many districts in Kerala, Maharashtra and Odisha are also in this category.

Authorities say that for the pandemic to stay under control, the positivity rate should stay under 5%. "If it goes beyond 5% in any district, local restrictions must be imposed," said Balram Bhargava, director general, ICMR.

Stressing that complacency against Covid-19 could prove costly, authorities mentioned the "frightening" images of crowded hill stations, with people rushing to places like Manali, Kullu, Shimla and Dharamsala to beat the heat.

"People, fed up with sitting at home due to restrictions, now seem to believe that if curbs have been lifted, it also means that the coronavirus has disappeared," said Lav Agrawal, joint secretary, health ministry. "But the virus is still circulating and we need to continue following Covid-19 appropriate behaviour. Even a small mistake could prove costly," he added.

The government also took to Twitter to issue a warning to people. "Manali can wait, But Virus won't. Ensure that you maintain 2 gaj doori in order to keep yourself & others around you safe. Be responsible, stay protected!" said one of the government's official Twitter handles.

"Slight relaxation in lockdown, and you all head to... mountains! The crowd in hotels today can lead to an increase in the crowd in hospitals tomorrow!" it added.

Home secretary reviews J&K security post Jammu attack

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

NEARLY a fortnight after the twin drone attack on the Indian Air Force's Jammu base, Union Home Secretary Ajay Bhalla chaired a meeting to review the security situation in Jammu and Kashmir on Tuesday. The meeting was attended by the chiefs of the Intelligence Bureau, NSG and CISF, among other senior officials.

J&K's director general ofpolice Dilbagh Singh briefed the home secretary about the measures taken to prevent such attacks in future and to beef up security at critical installations and airports across the Union Territory. The overall security situation in the Valley was also discussed, sources said.

Security agencies are keeping a close vigil on terror outfits operating from the Pakistani soil and intercepting telecom signals from Pakistani towers, internet service providers and SIM-cards originating from the neighbouring country. The terror outfits may use the telecom frequencies of the Pakistani mobile phone towers for drone attacks in J&K, particularly in areas near the Line of Control. This was discussed in detail at the meeting, sources said.

After the June 27 attack on the air base, special teams of NSG and CISF had visited the site of attack and reviewed its security. Sources said they submitted their observations and recommendations during the meeting.

Will accept Sonia's decision on revamp: Amarinder after meeting

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi/Chandigarh

AFTER a meeting with Congress president Sonia Gandhi on Monday amid bitter infighting in the state unit, Punjab Chief Minister Amarinder Singh said he would accept whatever decision is taken by the Congress high command on changes in the party and the government. He refused to comment on Navjot Singh Sidhu.

Coming out after the meeting, which lasted for one-and-a-half hours, the Punjab CM said discussions took place on the party's internal matters as well as the state's development. Whatever decision is taken by Sonia Gandhi "will be acceptable to us and we will implement and follow her decision", he said, adding that "Punjab is totally geared up for elections".

Rahul Gandhi and Mallikarjun Kharge, who is heading the three-member party panel set up to resolve the infighting in Punjab Congress, were also reported to be present at the meeting. Sources said just before Amarinder's meeting with Sonia, Priyanka Gandhi Vadra had also met the Congress president.

During the meeting, Sonia was briefed about the progress on the 18-point agenda given to the CM by the Kharge-led panel to resolve the feud. "I told the party president that whatever she wants on the development front was being implemented," the CM said. She told Amarinder that everyone should work together to serve the people and that infighting was denting the party's image.

When asked about role of his former cabinet minister and bitter critic Sidhu, Amarinder said, "I do not know anything about Sidhu. Whatever discussions happened with the Congress president is confidential and we can't talk it in public."

The chief minister has made it clear that appointing Sidhu as deputy CM or Punjab Congress chief would not be acceptable to him. However, there is speculation that Sidhu may get a important role in the planned revamp.

No chances of alliance with BJP: Uddhav

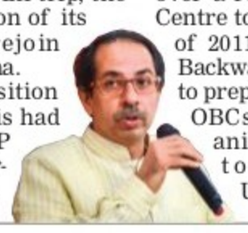
Sena chief asserts nothing happened in last 30 years when there was understanding

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray on Tuesday sought to end the speculation surrounding the Shiv Sena's exit from the Maha Vikas Aghadi, saying that there was no possibility of joining hand with the BJP.

"We were with BJP for last 30 years, nothing happened in that period. Now, no possibility," Uddhav told the media. In a lighter vein, the Sena chief said that he was sitting between Congress minister Balasaheb Thorat and NCP leader and deputy chief minister Ajit Pawar. "Will they allow me now?"

The talk of Uddhav returning to the NDA fold had gained currency after the Sena chief minister had recently met Prime Minister Narendra Modi in Delhi. In the days that followed after the Delhi trip, the BJP gave indication of its willingness to rejoin forces with the Sena.



Leader of Opposition Devendra Fadnavis had said that the BJP leaders have no personal enmity Uddhav. "We have only ideological difference because the Shiv Sena fought the elections with us but formed the government with the Congress and the NCP," the former chief minister said.

Similarly, senior BJP leader Sudhir Mungantiwar had claimed that the saffron party would open its door only when the Sena realises its mistake of going with the Congress and the NCP.

Talking to the media after the two-day session ended, the chief minister said the actions of the BJP members were not the sign of a healthy democracy.

Twelve BJP MLAs were on Monday suspended from the Assembly for one year for allegedly misbehaving with Speaker in chair Bhaskar Jadhav.

"What was the need for the BJP to create a hue and cry over a resolution asking the Centre to provide census data of 2011 to enable the State Backward Class Commission to prepare empirical data of OBCs....Should we say its animosity for OBCs came to the surface?" Uddhav asked.

Messiah for hundreds of undertrials died as one

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

STAN Swamy was instrumental in filing a PIL on behalf of youths belonging to SC/ST communities and others languishing in Jharkhand jails following cases being registered against them under the stringent sections of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act and Criminal Law Amendment Act (CLA), 1908.

In his PIL, Stan raised the pathetic situation of the undertrials. Hearing Swamy's PIL in 2018, the Jharkhand High Court called for detailed information on under-trials languishing in the prisons.

According to Father PM Tony, who spent a few years in Swamy-run NGO 'Bagaicha,' over 3,000 people, mostly tribals, are languishing in jails for many years due to the slow legal process.

"After coming across media reports, Stan was moved as he was deeply concerned about the Adivasis. He wanted to know how we could help and discussed the issue with his colleagues," said Father Tony. Finally, somebody suggested that a research study could be done on such prisoners and their situation in Jharkhand, he added.

"Since I had just completed my Ph.D. and returned from studies; Stan asked me if I was interested to take up the study. I agreed to it and a 'Bagaicha' Research Team was formed. It did six months of rigorous fieldwork."

Before the studies, Father Tony said, they also tried to access Jharkhand jails and approached the IG Prisons who neither give any appointment nor did he respond. "Then an RTI was filed, asking jail authorities to provide details of the undertrials who were booked under the CLA and similar sections dealing with state repression, but no proper reply was given."

Then they contacted Jeetan Marandi and Damodar Turi who were arrested on similar charges and released on bail, he added. Through these two people, the Bagaicha research team succeeded in tracing several other prisoners who were "falsely implicated and arrested" but were on bail. "We succeeded in tracing some of them and interviewed 102 persons who were out on bail."

Tony said that after proper research, a report was published in 2015 on the basis of which the PIL was filed.

India asserts detention legal as UNHCR feels disturbed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

WITH the likes of United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (UNHCR) criticising the handling of the Stan Swamy case, the Ministry of External Affairs asserted that the activist was arrested and detained following due process under law.

"Because of the specific nature of charges against him, his bail applications were rejected by the courts. Authorities in India act against violations of law and not against legitimate exercise of rights. All such actions are strictly in accordance with the law," said MEA spokesperson Arindam Bagchi. "India remains committed to promotion and protection of human rights of all its citizens."

Earlier in the day, the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) said that it was disturbed at the death of the tribal activist. "We are saddened & disturbed by the death of 84-year-old human rights defender Father #StanSwamy, after prolonged pretrial detention. With COVID-19, it is even more urgent that States release every person detained without sufficient legal basis," the UN body tweeted.

A note was also released by the spokesperson of the UN High Commissioner for Human Rights Liz Throssel which noted that the 84-year-old activist was held in pretrial detention without bail.

High Commissioner Michelle Bachelet and the UN's independent experts have repeatedly raised the cases of Swamy and other human rights defenders associated with the same events with India over the past three years and urged their release from pre-trial detention.

Mary Lawlor, UN Special Rapporteur on Human Rights Defenders, also tweeted on Swamy's death, terming the development devastating.

Docus planted on another activist: Report

NEW DEHI: An American forensic agency claimed incriminating evidence was planted on Bhima Koregaon case accused Surendra Gadling's computer, according to a report in the international media.

This report said Gadling's computer was compromised through emails that he received over two years before he was arrested, and on which others like Stan Swamy were copied, raising the possibility that Swamy's computer too may have been targeted. Gadling is in jail for last 3 years.

The NIA had alleged that Swamy and 15 others instigated the Bhima-Koregaon riot in Maharashtra. They were arrested under the UAPA.

Earlier, the international media had reported on a similar document from the same agency. It had alleged that a hacker planted over 30 documents on the computer on another accused Rona Wilson.

According to Arsenal's website, it has worked on a number of high-profile cases, including the Boston Marathon bombing. Arsenal said the attacker, who compromised Gadling's computer, had extensive resources and indulged in both surveillance and planting evidence. It also suggested that other defendants in the Bhima Koregaon case, including that of Swamy, may have been compromised. ENS

'STAN WAS FEARLESS, FOUGHT FOR RIGHTS OF POOR TRIBALS'

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

STAN Swamy was fond of the word 'comrade' and wanted to spread peace and connect every community with selfless service, says Father Frazer Mascarenhas who was associated with the Jesuit in his last days at a Mumbai hospital.

Swamy was a fearless man, said Mascarenhas.

A funeral service for Swamy was held at St. Peter's Church in suburban Bandra on Tuesday. The 84-year-old was an accused in the Bhima Koregaon case. He was treated in Holy Family hospital where he died on Monday afternoon.

Mascarenhas said Swamy in the last few days was feeling confident that things would get better for him and his co-accused. "Stan wanted to construct a bridge of communication with every community. He was always worried about the vulnerable sections of the society, particularly the tribals. He told me that the good things in the Constitution needed implementation, especially for tribals. The community is unaware of its rights. He said more than 3,000 tribals were arrested under the wrong laws for fighting for their rights. He wanted each of them freed," he said.

Mascarenhas said during his treatment in the ICU, one day he told him that he wanted to donate his body. "Stan always wanted to help someone till his last breath. He looked for every opportunity to help someone."

"Stan had spoken to his lawyers a few days before his death and felt confident that they were doing all they could to ensure justice for him and the co-accused in the Elgar Parishad case. When he entered the Holy Family hospital, I told him the people across the world were praying for him."

While a small funeral service was held at the church, several people, priests, lawyers, human rights activists and some family members joined the funeral online.

The church authorities said Swamy's body would be cremated in Mumbai after completing certain formalities and his ashes will be taken to Ranchi and Jamshedpur in Jharkhand.

North East Bishops Council condoles death

The North East India Regional Bishops' Council (NEIRBC) on Tuesday condoled the death of Jesuit priest and tribal rights activist Stan Swamy. "We fail to understand why an 84-year-old social worker, greatly weakened by diverse ailments, could not get a bail for a case in which he claimed absolute innocence," NEIRBC Deputy Secretary Fr GP Amalraj said in a statement.

THE letter was jointly signed by Sonia Gandhi (Cong), Sharad Pawar (NCP), Mamata Banerjee (Trinamool), Hemant Soren (JMM), H D Deve Gowda (JD-S), Farooq Abdullah (NC), Tejashwi Yadav (RJD), D Raja (CPI) and Sitaram Yechury (CPI-M).

"We are urging your immediate intervention as the President of India to direct 'your government' to act against those responsible for foisting false cases on him, his continued detention in jail and inhuman treatment. They must be held accountable. It is now incumbent that all those jailed in the Bhima Koregaon case and other detenues under politically motivated cases, misusing draconian laws like UAPA, sedition etc be released," the letter read.

Meanwhile, a US forensic agency said incriminating evidence was planted on Bima Koregaon case accused Surendra Gadling's computer. It had earlier claimed to have found evidence of activist Rona Wilson's computer being hacked to plant 30 documents to frame him in the case.

Delimitation panel meets politicians, two Gupkar parties boycott parleys

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

TWO Gupkar Alliance parties, PDP and ANC, boycotted meetings with the Delimitation Commission on Tuesday which met with the leaders of various political parties to seek feedback on redrawing of Assembly constituencies in J&K under the Jammu and Kashmir Reorganisation Act.

On their first day, the panel members met representatives of various political parties including National Conference, Congress, CPI, CPI(M), BJP, J&K Peoples Movement, Apni Party, Peoples Conference, BSP, J&K National Panthers Party.

However, PDP and Awami National Conference boycotted the meeting on Tuesday. The PDP alleged that the Commission lacks constitutional and legal mandate and the outcome of exercise is 'pre-planned'.

Apart from J&K CPI (M) secretary Ghulam Nabi Malik, a five-member NC delegation led by former finance minister Abdur Rahim Rather also met the Commission and presented a memorandum stating that the party has challenged constitutional validity of J&K Reorganisation Act, 2019 before the Supreme Court.

Two jawans held on spying charge

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chandigarh

THE Punjab Police on Tuesday busted a major cross-border espionage network with the arrest of two army personnel on charges of spying and providing classified documents to the Inter-Services Intelligence.

Director General of Police Dinkar Gupta said that Jalandhar Rural Police while investigating an NDPS case, seized confidential and secret documents related to the functioning and deployment of the Army from drug smuggler Ranvir Singh, who was arrested with heroin on May 24.

He said that during interrogation, Ranvir disclosed that he got these documents from one of the two soldiers, who was his friend, as they both belong to the same village.

"Ranvir motivated and lured the sepoy with financial benefits for sharing defence-related classified documents, following which the latter induced his friend, the other soldier, into such anti-national spying activities," said the DGP.

Pilgrimage stay: U'khand moves SC

VINEET UPADHYAY @ Dehradun

THE Uttarakhand government on Tuesday submitted a Special Leave Petition (SLP) in the Supreme Court against the High Court stay on the annual Char Dham Yatra.

The HC on June 28 had stayed the Uttarakhand Cabinet's decision to start the yatra from July 1.

Confirming the development advocate general SN Babulkar said, "At this point I can only confirm that the SLP has been submitted to the honourable Supreme Court."

In the petition, the Uttarakhand government stated that the residents of the villages around the Char Dham shrines are facing difficulties to earn their livelihood due to suspension of the yatra. It further explained due to harsh climate, these people depend on the yatra for livelihoods.

The state government also pointed out that there are fewer cases of Covid in the districts of Rudraprayag, Chamoli and Uttarkashi where the four shrines — Kedarnath, Badrinath, Gangotri and Yamunotri — are located.

Plane crashes in Russia, 28 on board feared dead

Wreckage found on coastal cliffside & sea near airport in Palana. Head of the town's local govt among passengers. No bodies found

MOSCOW

A PLANE carrying 28 people crashed on Tuesday, apparently as it came in for a landing in bad weather in Russia's Far East, and everyone aboard was feared dead.

Wreckage from the An-26 was found on a coastal cliffside and in the sea near the airport in the town of Palana, according to officials. The plane was on approach for a landing in fog and clouds when it missed a scheduled communication and disappeared from radar, officials from the Kamchatka region said.

The plane 'practically crashed into a sea cliff,' which wasn't supposed to be in its landing trajectory, according to Sergei Gorb, deputy director of the company that owns the aircraft, Kamchatka Aviation Enterprise.

The plane was in operation since 1982, Russian state news agency Tass reported. Alexei Khabarov, director of Kamchatka Aviation Enterprise, told the Interfax news agency that the aircraft was technically sound before taking off from the city of Petropavlovsk-Kamchatsky.

According to Russian media reports, none of the six crew members or 22 passengers on board survived. The head of the local government in Palana, Olga Mokhireva, was among the passengers, spokespeople of the Kamchatka government said.

However, no bodies were found yet, and there was no official confirmation of the reports.

Russia's state aviation agency, Rosaviatsiya, said parts of the plane were found about 3 miles (5 kilometers) from the airport's runway. Part of the fuselage was found on the side of a mountain, Russia's Pacific Fleet told news agencies, and another part was floating in the Okhotsk Sea.

A criminal investigation was opened, as is typical.

A search-and-rescue mission was underway in the mountainous area, but the work was suspended after night fell, the governor of Kamchatka, Vladimir Solodov, said.

'The site itself is difficult to access, a helicopter can't land there," Solodov said. AP

SOVIET-ERA PLANES

An-26 planes, manufactured from 1969 until 1986, have been involved in a number of accidents in recent years.

4 people died this March when an An-26 plane used by ex-Soviet Kazakhstan's military crashed while landing at an airport in Almaty, Russia.

Two recent Russian military accidents too have involved An-26 aircraft, resulting in the deaths of 40 people.

While Russia has improved its air traffic safety record in recent years, poor aircraft maintenance and lax safety standards persist.

Palana last saw an aircraft go down when an An-28 passenger plane struck trees during a premature descent in September 2012, killing 10 people.

The last major passenger plane accident took place in May 2019, when a Sukhoi Superjet crash-landed and caught fire on the runway of a Moscow airport, killing 41 people — AFP

Seized items on display at the Hong Kong police headquarters after nine people were arrested for allegedly trying to manufacture a powerful explosive in the city | AFP

6 students among 9 held in Hong Kong 'bomb plot'

HONG KONG

NINE people, including six secondary school students, were arrested in Hong Kong on Tuesday for allegedly plotting to set off homemade bombs in courts, tunnels and trash cans as political tensions rise in the city where China is tightening its grip.

Police said they were detained on suspicion of engaging in terrorist activity under a national security law that Beijing imposed a year ago as part of a crackdown on dissent in the former British colony.

Hong Kong authorities have used the law, enacted in response to anti-government protests that rocked the city in 2019, to arrest many of the city's prominent activists. Others have fled abroad.

If the allegations are true, the group appears to represent a more radical fringe of the protest movement, which has demanded broader democratic freedoms for Hong Kong just as its liberties are under threat. Police said the group was attempting to make the explosive triacetone triperoxide, or TATP, which has been widely used in bombings in Europe and elsewhere, in a makeshift laboratory in a hostel.

Police accused the group of planning to use the explosive to bomb courts, cross-harbor tunnels, railways and trash cans on the street 'to maximize damage caused to the society.'

Hong Kong chief executive Carrie Lam said she hopes the members of the public will 'openly condemn threats of violence.'

Authorities said they seized equipment and raw materials used to make the TATP, as well as a 'trace amount' of the explosive.

They said they also found operating manuals and about 80,000 Hong Kong dollars (USD 10,300) in cash.

Police froze about 600,000 Hong Kong dollars ($77,200) in assets that they say may be linked to the plot. Authorities said all nine planned to set off the bombs and then leave Hong Kong for good. AP

Lebanon's caretaker PM pleads for aid

BEIRUT

LEBANON'S caretaker prime minister appealed on Tuesday to the international community to save his country from 'death and demise' as multiple crises push it dangerously close to total collapse.

Hassan Diab's plea came as he spoke to diplomats in Lebanon, where politicians have failed to agree on forming a new government, nearly a year after Diab's cabinet resigned.

Diab urged friendly nations to extend assistance despite the lack of a new government, saying that linking aid to reform of a deeply corrupt system has become a 'threat to the lives of Lebanese' and to the country's stability.

Lebanon's economic and financial crisis has unfolded since late 2019, spiralling out of control in this country of over 6 million, including over a million Syrian refugees.

A foreign currency shortage has crippled the import-dependent nation, leaving residents struggling to find fuel, medicines and basic supplies. Daily power outages last hours, threatening hospitals and food stores, and leaving entire neighbourhoods in darkness.

The political crisis is rooted in decades of corruption and mismanagement by a post-civil war political class that has accumulated debt and done little to encourage local industries.

Lebanon has been promised billions in international aid, pending a reform plan to deal with corruption. But vying for power and trading blame, the political elite never agreed.

Iran accuses Israel of June attack on civilian nuclear site

DUBAI

IRAN accused Israel on Tuesday of mounting a sabotage attack on a nuclear facility near Tehran last month, the country's state-run news agency reported as authorities acknowledged for the first time that the mysterious assault had caused structural damage to the site.

Authorities announced in late June that they had prevented saboteurs from attacking a site located in Karaj, a city about 40 km (25 miles) northwest of the Iranian capital. They gave no details about what the targeted building belonging to the Iran's Atomic Energy Agency contained, or how it was targeted.

The sudden admission came just days after the election victory of the country's hard-line judiciary chief, Ebrahim Raisi, and followed a series of other attacks on Iran's nuclear programme, including the killing of a top nuclear scientist.

At the time, officials stressed that the attack had caused no casualties or damage. But Cabinet spokesman Ali Rabiei revised that account Tuesday, confessing to damage inflicted on the building's ceiling.

"A hole appeared on ceiling of one of the industrial sheds, so the roof was removed for repairs," Rabiei said, seeking to explain a satellite image of the site widely circulated online that appeared to show the roof's abrupt removal following the reported attack. "Damage to equipment was not remarkable," Rabiei added.

The allegedly foiled attack last month came amid a flurry of diplomatic activity, as diplomats in Vienna struggle to resurrect Tehran's now-tattered 2015 nuclear deal with world powers, which put curbs on its enrichment activities in return for relief from US sanctions. Former President Donald Trump withdrew America from the landmark accord three years ago. AP

GST mop-up in June falls below ₹1-L cr mark

At ₹92,849 cr, collection is worst in last nine months; decline attributed to lockdowns in several states during May

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

AFTER posting above ₹1-lakh crore mark for eight months in a row, GST collection for June fell to ₹92,849 crore on account of the second Covid wave.

This was the worst collection in the last nine month. The last time it was in September 2020, when GST collections were ₹95,480 crore. The collection during April 2021 has been the highest in ten months since the launch of the new tax system in August 2020.

Ministry attributes the decline in the collection to lockdown imposed in May by several states. "During May 2021, most of the states/UTs were under either complete or partial lockdown due to Covid," the finance ministry said in a statement on Tuesday.

According to the ministry, while the collection is lower than previous month, it is still 2% higher than the GST revenues in the same month last year.

The government has expressed confidence that as the e-way bill in June are showing better movement, the GST collection is expected to make a smart recovery from July onwards.

"The e-way bill data for the month of May 2021 shows that during the month, 3.99 crore e-way bills were generated as compared to 5.88 crore in the month of April 2021, down by more than 30%," the finance ministry statement said.

The claim was supported by the analysts.

₹16,424 Total share of CGST

₹20,397 crore Share of SGST

₹49,079 crore IGST collection

"Despite declining to a 10-month low, the June 2021 GST collections provided a positive surprise," Aditi Nayar, Chief Economist with ICRA, said.

"The GST collections in Q1 FY22 are higher than the pre-Covid level of Q1 FY20. This will buffer the revenue situation of the Centre and the states, which should support a ramping up of expenditure going ahead," she said.

According to MS Mani, Senior Director at Deloitte India, the latest numbers reflected the economic resilience shown during the recent pandemic phase.

"While the collections are lower than ₹1 lakh crore, which had become the norm for the past few months, considering the fact that it relates to transactions in May 2021 which was badly impacted by the pandemic, it would be considered as a very satisfactory collection," said Mani.

Of the total collection, CGST is ₹16,424 crore, SGST is ₹20,397, IGST is ₹49,079 crore, including ₹25,762 crore collected on import of goods and Cess is ₹6,949 crore.

The ministry added that above figure includes GST collection from domestic transactions between June 5 and July 5, since taxpayers were given various relief measures in the form of waiver and reduction in interest on delayed return filing for 15 days in the wake of the second wave of the pandemic. During this month the government has settled ₹19,286 cr to CGST and ₹16,939 cr to SGST.

BANGLADESH

BANGLADESH EXPORTS UP 15%

Bangladesh's exports jumped 15% to $38.76 billion in the financial year ended June, data showed on Tuesday, led by a rebound in demand for garments as western economies recovered. In June alone, exports grew at a record pace of 31% from a year earlier to $3.58 billion, led by more orders from the US and Europe, the main destinations of apparel sales. The world's second-largest apparel producer after China took a roughly $6 billion hit in the 2019-20 financial year, with overseas apparel sales falling 18% to $27.94 billion. Garment exports rose 13% to $31.5 billion in 2020-21 from a year earlier, thanks to a 21% surge in overseas sales of knitwear products such as t-shirts and sweaters, but were 7% below the pre-pandemic period of 2018-19 financial year, the Export Promotion Bureau said. Sales of woven garments, such as formal denim shirts and pants, rose only 3%, which exporters attributed to tepid demand.

TAIWAN

TAIWAN JOBLESS RATE SPIKES TO 7-YEAR HIGH

Taiwan's unemployment rate hit a more than seven-year high of 4.15% in May, when curbs began being imposed on the entertainment and hospitality sectors to help stop the spread of Covid-19 cases. May's jobless rate was the highest since October of 2013, when it hit 4.17%. Taiwan raised its alert level in May to control a spike in infections, limiting personal gatherings, closing entertainment venues and stopping restaurants from offering anything but take out service. However, case numbers are now declining, and the Cabinet said on Monday ministries and officials should make preparations to ease restrictions. Despite the coronavirus outbreak, export-reliant semiconductor industry has been largely unaffected.

JAPAN

JAPAN'S ECONOMY MAY RETURN TO PRE-COVID LEVELS BY YEAR-END

Japan's economy is set to recover to pre-pandemic levels by the end of this year, helped by solid exports as well as consumer spending supported by progress in vaccinations, the government said in revised estimates on Tuesday. In a mid-year review, the government forecasts that during the fiscal year to end-March, the economy will expand 3.7% and at some point real GDP will exceed $4.9 trn marked in Oct-Dec 2019. The forecasts appear to show a weaker expansion than the government's January estimate of 4% growth for this fiscal. But that is largely due to a smaller-than-expected 4.6% contraction for the economy in fiscal 2020. Growth for the next fiscal is expected to slow to 2.2% as the pace of exports moderates. But robust domestic demand will lift GDP to a record 558 trn yen, according to projections.

Tata Motors stock tanks as chip shortage hits JLR production

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

SHARES OF TATA Motors temporarily tanked 10% (lower circuit) on Tuesday after its British subsidiary Jaguar Land Rover (JLR) reported that global shortage in semi-conductor chips will lead to a 50% decline in production during the September quarter and only a marginal recovery is expected during the second half of this financial year.

"We expect the situation will start to improve in the second half of our financial year. However, the broader underlying structural capacity issues will only be resolved as supplier investment in new capacities comes online over the next 12-18 months and so we expect some level of shortages will continue through to the end of the year and beyond," said JLR in a statement.

As a result of constraints in supply chain and lower production, JLR expects an operating cash outflow of about £1 billion with a negative operating margin in the second quarter.

Following this announcement, shares of Tata Motors plummeted even as it was rallying at around 3% during early morning trade on news that the company is going for a price hike in India for Tata Motors range of cars and SUVs. Tata shares ended 8.41% lower at ₹316.95 on BSE after hitting a high of ₹358.10. To note, Tata Motors stock has gained about 200% in the last year.

Analysts said that JLR's struggle to meet the demand is sure to impact the company's performance in near term but long term growth remains intact.

"Due to profit warning for JLR on account of shortage of semiconductors in 1QFY22 as well as 2QFY22 and indication of negative operating margins for 1HFY22 disappointed investors as street was expecting remarkable improvements in 2QFY22. This would result into sizable loss for Tata Motors on consolidated basis in 1HFY22E," Mitul Shah, Head of Research, Institutional Equity, Reliance Securities told TNIE.

In the quarter ended June, JLR's retail sales rose 68.1% year-on-year to 1,24,537 vehicles. At the wholesale level, volumes jumped 73% on year to 84,442 units excluding China JV numbers. However, this was 30,000 units lower than what was planned due to chip shortage and the impact of the pandemic, the company said. JLR presently has about 110,000 global retail orders, the highest in the history of the company.

Oil surges as OPEC+ talks break down over Saudi-UAE rift

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Chennai

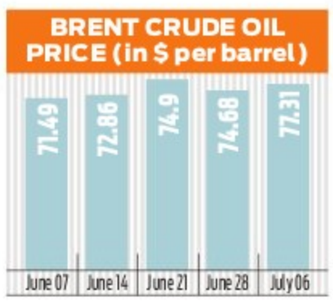
WHILE the tussle between Russia and Saudi Arabia in the OPEC+ alliance contributed to a prodigious drop in crude oil prices last March, the latest rift in the oil exporters' cartel between the United Arab Emirates (UAE) and the Saudi kingdom is contributing to a run-up in oil rates.

After the OPEC+ alliance, which comprises the 13 members of the Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and 10 other major exporters such as Russia and Kazakhstan, failed to reach a decision on increasing production during their meeting on Monday, crude oil prices gained sharply—brent crude breaching the $77-per-barrel-mark.

Analysts expect crude oil prices to continue rising if the alliance fails to reach a consensus on increasing production further.

With retail fuel prices already at an all-time high and rising unabated, costlier oil spells trouble for India. On Tuesday, the price of petrol in Delhi stood at ₹99.86 per litre, while diesel was priced at ₹89.36. In Mumbai, prices stand at ₹105.92 and ₹96.91 per litre respectively, while in Chennai they are at ₹100.75 and ₹93.91.

For the Union and state governments, which have sharply increased their dependence on fuel taxes, such a rise would force a choice between accepting lower tax revenues at a time when pandemic-related relief requires large scale spending, or allowing retail fuel prices to keep rising, leading to widespread price rise across the board.



India's retail inflation has already surged from 4.23% in April to 6.30% in May, which is above the RBI's comfort level of 2-6% —the first time in six months that this upper bound has been breached.

The current rift at the OPEC+ revolves around the interests of two of the world's largest oil exporters. On one hand, Saudi Arabia is pushing for a 2 million barrel per day increase in output between August-December 2021, but wants the remaining supply cuts (first made last summer) to extend to the end of 2022. However, UAE believes that a cut in output beyond the initially agreed-upon deadline of April 2022 would be "unfair". And the proposed deal, which UAE is refusing to agree to, it has to proportionally cut its oil production by 18%, while Saudi Arabia would cut its output by 5%.

According to global brokerage UBS, if no agreement is reached, oil prices are likely to climb over $80 per barrel by this September, and analysts at Citigroup agree. However, Citi also noted that high prices would hamper global economic recovery.

Warehousing transactions fall 23% amid Covid

BISMAH MALIK @BENGALURU

INDIA'S warehousing market saw a 23% Y-o-Y decline in transactions during FY21 with the second wave of Covid adversely impacting the demand for space, an annual report by the global property consultant Knight Frank said.

Although the warehouses have continued to remain an attractive investment, the report said economic slowdown before the pandemic led the potential occupiers to cut down their warehousing expansion plans in FY21.

The demand shock was almost prevalent across all the primary markets including NCR, Mumbai, Ahmedabad, Kolkata, Pune and Hyderabad. For markets such as Chennai and Bengaluru, the demand for warehousing transactions grew marginally by 4% and remained flat respectively. All the major markets witnessed a drop in average warehouse rent Y-o-Y ranging from -7% to 1%.

ANNUAL WAREHOUSING TRANSACTIONS

CITY	WAREHOUSE LEASING (mn sq ft) Y-o-Y FY21	AVERAGE RENT Y-o-Y (INR/sq ft/month) FY21
Mumbai	-23%	-7%
ncr	-20%	1%
Bangalore	0%	-5%
Chennai	4%	-3%
Kolkata	-22%	-1%
Ahmedabad	-42%	-3%
Pune	-42%	-1%
Hyderabad	-30%	-2%

SOURCE: Knight Frank Research

According to the report, the rent growth faced significant headwind in the challenging market with occupiers negotiating hard for incentives like rent- free periods and delaying contractual escalations to tide over liquidity issues. Rent growth faced significant headwinds. However, this deadlock could break towards the end of this year as occupiers eventually submit to higher rents due to inflationary pressures, as per the study.

E-commerce to drive growth

The impetus provided to the e-commerce industry by the pandemic is expected to sustain for the next five years, which could further boost the warehousing transactions. Segment-wise, the e-commerce's share in the warehousing transactions has more than doubled to 31% in FY21 from 14% in FY18. The share of other players including third-party logistics providers (3PL), retail and FMCG, in the total warehouse area transacted has declined during the corresponding period.

According to Knight Frank's projections, the transactions will grow at a CAGR of 19% to 76.2 mn sq ft in FY26 from 31.7 mn sq ft in FY21. E-commerce will constitute the bulk of the warehousing transactions growing at a CAGR of 165% between FY22-26. "...the Indian warehousing sector was adversely impacted to a lesser magnitude on key business parameters. In fact, the sector shows great promise with recognition of its pivotal role as a critical link between the manufacturer and the end consumer. Efficient logistics and distribution will be a key determinant of a business' success in today's ultra-competitive environment," Shishir Baijal, CMD, Knight Frank India, said.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

Bajaj Auto slashes price of Dominar 250 by ₹16,800

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

BAJAJ AUTO on Tuesday announced a price cut of ₹16,800 for its sports bike Dominar 250 as it aims to widen customer base. After this reduction, the bike is now priced at ₹1.54 lakh. This reduction by Bajaj comes at a time when Dominar 250's biggest rival Suzuki Gixxer 250 series has received a price hike of up to ₹3,500. The Gixxer 250 is now priced at ₹1.71 lakh.

Sarang Kanade, President (Motorcycle Business), Bajaj Auto, said, "We are proud to build the segment of Sports Touring in the country with a motorcycle that is 'Born To Sprint and Built To Tour'. We have taken a stance of reducing price and make Sports Touring more accessible."

AU Small Finance Bank disburses less loan; asset quality stable

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

AU Small Finance Bank's June quarter update has come as a relief amid worries that small finance banks would be hit harder with the second Covid-19 wave spreading to India's small towns and hinterland.

In a regulatory filing, the bank said its asset quality was broadly stable on a sequential basis as net additions (slippages net of recoveries and upgrades) to non-performing assets (GNPA) in April-June quarter (Q1FY22) fell by ₹8 crore. Restructured book at ₹686 crore was 1.9% of AUM, which was an increase of 7% over the March quarter, in value). Its assets under management (AUM) shrank by 3% sequentially but were up 22% to ₹36,635 year-on-year.

On loan growth, the Jaipur-based lender said its gross advances showed a provisional growth of 31% on a year-on-year basis (YoY) to ₹34,688 crore in the quarter ended on June 30, 2021 from ₹26,534 crore. Sequentially, the loan book declined 2% to ₹ 35,356 crore because there were lower fresh loan disbursals due to weak demand compounded by risk aversion. Disbursements were at ₹1,896 crore, up 60.5% YoY and down 74.45% over the March quarter.

The 2% sequential fall in loan growth isn't as significant as expected when even larger lenders like HDFC Bank and Yes Bank have taken a hit due to the second wave-led disruptions.

With gradual easing of restrictions, collection efficiency, however, rose to 114% in June from 94% and 95% in May and April, respectively. While there have been some delays in collections due to localised restrictions and surge in infections during the quarter, the impact of the second wave has been relatively less severe than the first wave of the pandemic when the nation was under a complete lockdown.

On the liquidity front, the bank's total deposits in the first quarter of FY22 were at ₹37,014 crore, up 38% from ₹26,734 crore in the same quarter last fiscal. The deposits were 3% higher from ₹35,979 crore in the March 2021 quarter. This, the lender said, was primarily led by robust CASA growth of 157% YoY (16% QoQ).

BAJAJ FINANCE BOOKS FEWER NEW LOANS

In its early Q1FY22, consumer financier Bajaj Finance said it has booked 4.6 million new loans compared to 5.47 million loans booked in the previous quarter, but significantly higher compared to 1.8 million new loans booked in Q1 FY21. The financial services company, however, kicked off the current fiscal on a strong note with a healthy capital adequacy ratio of 28.6% as of June 30, 2021, and a surplus liquidity of ₹10,900 crore on its balance sheet. Its deposit book at the end of Q1FY22 stood at ₹28,000 crore, up 8.51% sequentially and almost 40% YoY. Assets under management at the end of the June quarter stood at approximately ₹1.59 lakh crore up 15.2% YoY, and 4.6% sequentially. This includes IPO financing receivable of approximately ₹2,900 crore, said Bajaj.

Anand returns to over-the-board action in Croatia after a year's gap

Five-time world champion Viswanathan Anand will resume his storied rivalry with Russian legend Garry Kasparov in the Croatia Grand Chess Tour Rapid and Blitz tournament beginning on Wednesday, returning to over-the-board action after more than a year. The Indian maestro's last over-the-board event was in March 2020 before Covid-19 halted sporting action.

Curious case of women's relay squads

THE Athletics Federation of India (AFI) named a 26-member team on Monday. Though most of the names were among expected lines -- either through meeting qualifying standards or through world rankings -- the exclusions of two teams seemed perplexing.

One was the much-hyped women's 4x400m team. The other? The so-called 'promising' 4x100m squad with Dutee Chand and star runner Hima Das in it. The latter, AFI was hoping, would qualify.

The tale of the 4x400m team is intriguing. It had been projected as one of the medal hopes at the Olympics. It was even touted as one of the world's top teams. The squad trains under a highly acclaimed foreign coach, gets adequate government support. They even hold the Asian Games record. Now, it needs to be seen if AFI manages to get the 4x400m team in order before the Asian Games next year. Interestingly, the core team on whom the AFI spent a lot of money and resources since the gold medal at the Asian Games in Jakarta about three years ago have suddenly faded. The quartet at the Games in 2018 were Hima, MR Poovamma, Saritaben Gayakwad and VK Vismaya and the timing was 3:28.72s, a shade off the Asian Games (India at Incheon) record of 3:28.68s. They were considered formidable.

Come October 2019, at the World Relays in Doha, there was no Hima (400m national record holder). She had sustained a back injury during the 400m discipline at the Asian Championships in April, 2019, and could not recover on time. In between, the women's team along with others, were stationed in Poland for more than six months. There, a majority of them ran a few F and E category events. Hima concentrated on the 200m primarily because she did not recover enough to run 400m. So at the World Championships in Doha in 2019, Jisna Mathew and V Subha joined Poovamma and Vismaya. Saritaben suddenly dropped off the radar.

Whatever recovery and training the relay team were targetting was jeopardised by Covid last year. Hima concentrated only on the sprints. She and Dutee were expected to qualify for the 4x100m relay. Even that did not happen. In the end, going by current form, the best 400m runner, Poovamma, too had to leave the camp due to a 'back injury' days after the Inter-State championships. Jisna is struggling with her timing. The 4x400m that was clinging on to their qualification status until the end of the June 29 deadline fell out of the top 16 because there were no members left who could clock beyond the 3:29.42s at the World Championships in Doha. Though disappointed, AFI president Adille Sumariwalla is not too worried. "It was a very bad year because of the pandemic," he said, adding it hurt their training and competition schedule. "We could not go abroad for anything. And I am pretty sure if we had gone for the World relays in Poland (May 1-2), we would have qualified in both 4x400 and 4x100."

The AFI chief is confident that the country would be able to field a strong women's 4x400m team at the Asian Games next year. He is also confident the 4x100m women's relay would be one of the top teams in the world soon.

Neeraj to train in Sweden

Javelin thrower Neeraj Chopra is training in Uppsala, Sweden Since there is three weeks left for the Games, he is concentrating on his training. He is expected to leave for Tokyo on July 26.

Virus effect: England name new squad

AFP @ London

BEN Stokes will captain an entirely new England squad featuring nine uncapped players for a one-day international series at home to Pakistan, after the existing group was forced to self-isolate because of a coronavirus outbreak within the hosts' camp. England, the 50-over world champions, were all set to field an unchanged squad after beating Sri Lanka. But those plans were ripped up after three of their players and four support staff, all as yet unnamed by the England and Wales Cricket Board, tested positive for Covid-19 in Bristol on Monday following the washed-out third ODI against Sri Lanka on Sunday.

The rest of the group involved in a 2-0 series win – Sunday's match in Bristol was a no-result – were forced to self-isolate.

Barty, Sabalenka through to maiden Wimbledon semis

ASSOCIATED PRESS @ London

WHEN Angelique Kerber grabbed the opening set of her Wimbledon quarterfinal, the full-capacity crowd saluted the accomplishment with cheers that bounced off the closed roof at No. 1 Court.

Kerber's reaction? Just a matter-of-fact, straight-faced stroll to the sideline. No shouts or leaps or fist pumps. Unlike the other women headed to the semifinals at the All England Club, this is not new to her. Not at all. It's just that it's been a while. Kerber, a 33-year-old left-hander from Germany, will next go up against No 1 Ash Barty, who beat 75th-ranked Ajla Tomljanovic 6-1, 6-3. Barty has entered the semifinals of Wimbledon for the first time in her career.

Kerber beat No. 19 seed Karolina Muchova 6-2, 6-3 on Tuesday.

The other semifinal Thursday will be No 2 seed Aryna Sabalenka against No 8 Karolina Pliskova, who both won in straight sets. Sabalenka collected her tour-leading 34th match win of 2021 by eliminating No. 21 seed Ons Jabeur 6-4, 6-3 at Centre Court, and Pliskova eliminated Viktorija Golubic 6-2, 6-2 at No. 1 Court.

Paqueta sends Brazil into Copa final

AFP @ Rio de Janeiro

STAR forward Neymar set up Lucas Paqueta to score the only goal as hosts Brazil beat Peru 1-0 on Monday to qualify for the Copa America final.

The semifinal was a repeat of the last final, two years ago, when a Brazil team also triumphed on home soil. The Selecao will play either Lionel Messi's Argentina or Colombia, who meet in Brasilia on Wednesday, in Saturday's final at iconic Maracana stadium.

"I want Argentina. I'm supporting Argentina because I have friends there and Brazil will win the final," said Neymar. "Paqueta is a great player, he's getting better in every game and in every game with the national team," he said about the 23-year-old match winner, who plays his club football for Lyon in France.

"He's just had a great season with his club and is showing that he can be important player for Brazil."

England, tipped to finally bring it home, go head to head with the surprise package of the tournament and every neutral's favourite, Denmark in the second semifinal.

LONDON DREAMS

BACKGROUND

After a patchy start which included a draw against Scotland and two narrow wins over Croatia and Czech Republic, the Three Lions have roared into form with a clinical 2-0 triumph over Germany and a 4-0 thumping of Ukraine. The nation is dreaming again. The Red and Whites had a horror start to the tournament with talisman Christian Eriksen collapsing on the pitch and the team failing to beat lowly Finland. They made it out of the group by the skin of their teeth but since then have been on a fairy-tale run.

KANE VS KJAER

After a poor start to the competition which included two touches in the opposition box in the opening game, Harry Kane has refound his mojo with a fine finish against Germany before a brace against Ukraine, a game in which he looked back to his best. That is an ominous sign for the Danes, who will need their skipper to put in a faultless performance if they are to keep their dreams alive. The skipper has overcome his own fitness concerns and he did manage to keep Belgium's Romelu Lukaku and Russian focal point Artem Dzyuba quiet.

SHAW VS MAEHLE

After his career-best season for Manchester United, Luke Shaw has finally started producing on the international arena as well. No England player has created more chances (8) than the full-back, and has already contributed three assists. Maehle has had an equally impressive tournament, notching two goals and an assist. Having played every minute of the competition, he will once again be tasked with creating opportunities for the frontmen.

PICKFORD VS DOLBERG

England have not conceded so far in the tournament and the Everton keeper has played a big part in that. While playing for his club side, Pickford has had to cope with a lot of criticism but he has found peak form in this tournament. He has not conceded a goal for his country since November 15. Since the injury suffered by Yussuf Poulsen, Dolberg has taken up the mantle of scoring for the Danes, and has notched three strikes in the knockout stages.

13

Victory would make England the 13th country to reach a Euro final, and the first newcomers since Greece and Portugal in 2004.

PREDICTED LINE-UPS

ENGLAND	DENMARK
Pickford; Walker, Stones, Maguire, Shaw; Rice, Phillips; Saka, Mount, Sterling; Kane	Schmeichel; Vestergaard, Christensen, Kjaer; Stryger Larsen, Delaney, Hojbjerg, Maehle; Damsgaard, Dolberg, Braithwaite

03 This will be the third meeting between England and Denmark in a major tournament. England won 3-0 in the second round of the 2002 World Cup, after a goalless draw in the group stages of Euro 1992.

UNSANITARY WORLD

COMPILED BY: ARAVINDAKSHAN S
EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

A common refrain in the world of water/sanitation advocacy is that no human invention has saved more lives than the toilet. A quick glance at child mortality data shows the truthfulness of the statement: In 1990, more than 1.5 million kids in the world died of diarrhoea, a temporary nuisance for the well-heeled that can be deadly among the poor and under-5s; by 2017, the number had fallen to about 500,000. The decline coincided with an global improvement in access to good sanitation and clean water. Countries of the world agreed in 2015 to make such access universal by 2030, and thereby stop children as well as adults from dying due to a preventable disease. This pledge was part of the UN's Sustainable Development Goals. We take a look at the progress made so far

25% of the world's healthcare facilities lack basic handwashing services, the WHO-UNICEF report found, meaning that 712 million people have no access to water while they are in a hospital or a clinic

Verdict

WHO and UNICEF acknowledged in a recent statement announcing the data from their Joint Monitoring Programme that the progress has been slow, and that the 2030 target of the Sustainable Development Goals will not be met. This means that by 2030, 1.6 billion people will lack safe drinking water at home, 2.8 billion will lack safe sanitation and 1.9 billion won't have basic hygiene services

Why is this important?

In 2017, at least 1.6 million people died due to infectious diseases caused by unsafe drinking water or poor sanitation. To put this in context, 26,500 died from terrorism in that year. One-third of the 1.6 million water/sanitation fatalities were children younger than 5

Diarrhoea can also cause lasting damage. Indian children tend to be shorter than sub-Saharan African children of similar income groups, because of repeated infections. Differences in height, a key indicator of community health, can also stem from malnutrition and other factors

2020 CHECK-IN

Graphs show level of access that % of world's population has, marking the progress from 2015 to 2020, as well as projections for 2030 if current trend continues. 1X-4X figures show progress needed for 100% coverage

Public health

Deaths due to poor sanitation tend to be more in poor nations than richer ones, as higher income levels correspond to the building of more sanitation facilities. Open defecation has often been highlighted in rural India, which has made substantial progress in reducing the proportion of the population who practise it (see chart at bottom), thanks to a government drive of toilet-building. The practice is particularly harmful to women as it puts them at risk of violence, as well as raising chances of adverse outcomes in pregnancy

'Vax to reach poorest nations only in 2023'

MEDICINE

POOREST countries will have to wait for another two years to get vaccinated for Covid-19, experts told the news section of Nature.

At the 47th G7 summit in Cornwall, UK, the leaders of wealthy nations pledged extra doses in addition to the promised 87.5 million by the end of 2022 for low-and middle-income countries, with the US promising the highest donation of 500 mn Pfizer doses.

Andrea Taylor, the assistant director of Duke Global Health Innovation Center in North Carolina, said that the pledges are unlikely to translate into action. She pointed to various instances of restrictions on export in EU, India and the US, and a subsequent diversion of the vaccines to meet the domestic demands. India, where six out of ten vaccines are made, had halted the supply even to COVAX, a programme to supply doses to the poorest nations.

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) projects that at the current pace of vaccination, six billion doses would be administered by the end of the year. Of the 3.2 billion doses administered as of 4 July, more than 80% of the doses have gone to people in high and upper-middle-income countries whereas only 1% of the people in low-income countries have received at least one jab, as per Our World in Data. Meanwhile, of the 1.3 billion people in Africa, just 2% has received one shot and 1% was fully vaccinated.

FACT OF THE MATTER

Elephants set to fly to Kenya

CONSERVATION

In a first-of-its kind operation, a herd of 13 elephants from a zoo in Kent, UK, is set to be flown to the Kenyan savannahs and re-introduced to the wild, reported the Guardian. All except one in the herd, which has three calves, were born at Howletts Wild Animal Park, a private zoo near Canterbury. The herd of endangered African elephant species will probably travel with full consciousness and be in their transportation crates prior to the journey, in order to make them get used to the spaces and reduce stress during flight. When the jumbos reach Kenya, they will be kept in their enclosure for six months for conservationists.

'Evidence points to natural virus origin'

SCIENCE

NEW DELHI: There is no scientifically validated evidence to support the theory that the coronavirus leaked from a laboratory in China, and more recent, peer-reviewed studies strongly suggest that the virus evolved in nature, a group of scientists wrote in The Lancet.

The report published on Monday was compiled by two dozen biologists, ecologists, epidemiologists, physicians, public health experts and veterinarians from around the world. "We believe the strongest clue from new, credible, and peer-reviewed evidence in the scientific literature is that the virus evolved in nature, while suggestions of a laboratory-leak source of the pandemic remain without scientifically validated evidence that directly supports it in peer-reviewed scientific journals," the authors wrote in the journal. The same team of scientists had last year dismissed the lab leak idea as a conspiracy theory in a report also published in The Lancet.

The latest report comes as many countries have called for further inquiry into the origins of the coronavirus, including the possibility that it escaped from a lab in the Chinese city of Wuhan, where the first cases were reported in December 2019. "Allegations and conjecture are of no help as they do not facilitate access to information and objective assessment of the pathway from a bat virus to a human pathogen that might help to prevent a future pandemic," the authors said.

"New viruses can emerge anywhere. It is time to turn down the heat of the rhetoric and turn up the light of scientific inquiry if we are to be better prepared to stem the next pandemic," they noted.

The authors, however, said they welcome calls for rigorous investigations into the origin of the virus. "To accomplish this, we encourage WHO and scientific partners across the world to expeditiously move to continue and further extend their initial investigation with experts in China and the Chinese Government."

MAKING HISTORY

That bakery, run by Marion "Frank" Bench, was the first in the nation to sell commercially sliced and wrapped bread. Other bakers said it couldn't be done without the loaves losing their freshness

PROMOTIONS

A Chillicothe newspaper ad promoted the breakthrough as "the greatest forward step in the baking industry since bread was wrapped."

TAKING STOCK

Keeping a keen eye on money matters are women in B'luru who are investing and learning about stock market trends

There has been a rise in the number of women enquiring about classes to understand finance and investment

Ritvik Vipin, co-founder, Havenspire

SANATH PRASAD

EVERY morning, Shruti Kapur Malhal, partner with a luxury floral boutique brand, begins her day by gleaning through financial newspapers which is followed by tracking the markets as soon as they open. Malhal, who is part of Millennium Mams, a group that studies equity markets, started investing in stocks and shares a month ago.

Like Malhal, several women have taken to learning and investing in the stock market in these unprecedented times. In fact, finance experts find a spike in the number joining classes to get a first-hand understanding of the goings-on of the market, once considered a man's domain. "It is more about understanding the company you are investing in. It's a patient game. Being an informed investor can give you better returns than following market trends. I am going after good wealth and am investing in companies that have a good promoter base, intellectual properties and government backing," says Malhal, who also cautions against blindly investing without research and calculation that can put an investor at risk.

Currently doing options trading in the US, social media influencer Sphurti Dixit feels women want to become financially independent, especially with the pandemic sounding off alarm bells on the job market. "Trading and investing in stocks is still considered a taboo in India. Which is why I'm using my YouTube channel to tell people the importance of financial literacy," says Dixit, a technical project manager, whose mother-in- law (65), is investing in stocks after understanding the benefits.

Ritvik Vipin, co-founder of Havenspire, a community learning startup, which educates people on the markets, finds that a lot of working professionals are now taking a plunge into investment and trading. "We have witnessed a rise in the enquiries regarding stock markets, especially from women. Out of 10 enquiries, at least eight join our course," says Vipin

After losing her teaching job last year during the first wave of the pandemic, Florence Rundlett is now planning to invest in stocks to re-gain financial stability. "There were financial issues after I lost my job which is when I thought of investing in stocks. I am now earning through online tuition and at the same time attending online community classes on stock markets and investments," says Rundlett, who is now preparing notes to decided where to put her money.

Although the market has not been looking up during the pandemic, Sowmya D, an IT professional, believes that as an investor one has to be cued in to the goings-on. "I want to trade in stocks because we never know what is going to happen in times like these. Having an alternate option is good. Once I learnt the complete dynamics of trading, I will definitely quit my job and take it up full time," says Soumya.

This World Chocolate Day, restaurants and cafes in the city are doling out sweet offers you can't refuse

Crazy about chocolate

EXPRESS FEATURES

LOOK no further if you're looking for a mid-week pick-me-up. World Chocolate Day falls on July 7 this year and while we don't need a reason to indulge in its decadence, city restaurants and cafes have whipped up a range of sweet deals that will leave you spoilt for choice. Take, for instance, the Copper + Cloves @ The Organic World café, where two of their bestsellers - the coconut cinnamon latte and the banana walnut loaf - have been made into bars of chocolate. The plan has been in the making for close to six months now and founder Sarah Nicole Edwards, who collaborated with artisanal chocolate makers Mason & Co for this, is excited about the new offering. "While the banana walnut loaf bar captures the essence of the original dish, the coconut cinnamon latte bar tastes just like the latte we serve at the café," says Edwards. The chocolates come in a set that is priced at ₹360, which is available via AirMenus and in the café at Indiranagar.

Chef Sahil Ratta, who is the deputy corporate chef at AA Hospitality - Pan Asian, is making chocolate almond rocks. These will be served as complimentary petit fours at Lucky Chan and Misu, with a 400 gm box priced at ₹650 available for take-away and pre-order. True to the cuisine served at the restaurants, the chocolates come with a pan Asian twist. "The almonds have been roasted in Thai-style with sugar coating," says Ratta.

Amrut Mehta, chef and director of the Little Italy Group of Restaurants, is launching an indulgent new dessert on the menu for World Chocolate Day. While the existing menu offers chocolate fondant, brownies and mouse, their new dessert - the chocolate garden - combines five different textures. "It's a culmination of our other desserts. So there.s fondant, brownies, mousse, cookies and sauce.

They all come together to look like chocolate mud and once topped off with microgreens and edible flowers, you get yourself an edible chocolate garden," says Mehta, adding that the dessert is priced at ₹375.

Primal moves

Animal flow, a form of exercise is now viral on social media. It's about ground-based movement and mimicking animal moves. We speak to experts to find out what sets this apart from traditional yoga

SHREYA VERONICA

COVID has made us realise the importance of leading a healthy life and staying fit. Ever since the pandemic hit, people have been trying all sorts of fitness techniques to add the fun element in their workout routines. Animal flow workout is the latest rage on social media. Though a fairly old concept in the west, it is now picking up in India and is a style statement in the city.

So, what is animal flow workout? According to Kuldep Sethi, a celebrity trainer, it is a mixed bag of exercises from gymnastics and yoga. "It is essentially body weight exercises which increase your flexibility and strengthen your limbs. Every year something new comes up in the fitness field and right now, animal flow workout it the in thing," he says.

Sethi says that as Indians have had this technique in yoga and traditional forms of fitness for the longest time. "For example, in Dangal, the body building exercises shown, such as push-ups and squats, are all functional exercises where you lose body weight. 'Animal flow' is just a new name given to it and it is being marketed really well. There are a few movements which are new and people are experimenting with this format to understand what's different," he says.

Vidhya Saga, a freelance fitness trainer, echoes the same views. "Our traditional Indian workouts already have these moves. These includes the routine cardio and strengthening. We should understand that animal flow also includes yoga," she says.

Actress Sanjjanaa Galrani been practising animal flow workout for quite some time now and she find a lot of similarities with yoga. "There is something called an elephant pose where you move your neck up and down, as though we have a trunk. The cat pose helps you work on your muscles and love handles. All of this originates from yoga," she says.

Sanjana Taneja Dixit, a yoga acharya, talks about the six components of animal flow -- wrist mobilisations, activations, form-specific stretches, traveling forms, switches and transitions, and flow. "Fitness enthusiasts of all levels realise the significant benefits of animal flow, which are increased mobility, flexibility, stability, power, endurance, skill and neuromuscular communication. Each of the six components of animal flow is designed to achieve specific results. These components can be mixed and matched in many ways, and incorporated in our fitness regimen," she says.

6 COMPONENTS OF ANIMAL FLOW

Wrist mobilisations: These include a range of simple exercises designed to increase the flexibility and strength of your wrists

Activations: These are static holds we perform to connect the body before we begin our practice

Form-specific stretches: These are full-body stretches that start in an animal form and move through a wide range of motion. These increase your mobility and flexibility throughout the body

Traveling forms: These mimic the movements of animals

Switches and transitions: These are dynamic movements that we perform one after the other, creating the 'flow'. You can transfer from one form to another, or repeat one form as a drill

Flow: Your flow is where the real magic happens. You'll combine the moves of animal flow into a fluid sequence, seamlessly transferring energy from one move to the next

BHRAMARA MUDRA

(ALLERGY RELIEF GESTURE)

Bhramara is an Indian dance after which this mudra is named. This mudra is primarily used to protect against allergies and treat the symptoms of allergic reactions. It can help to ease the symptoms of respiratory conditions, such as bronchitis and asthma, by easing congestion in the lungs and sinuses. With regular practice, it can strengthen and bolster the immune system, which is often weakened as a result of such conditions. This should be practised for at least seven minutes, up to four times a day. However, you can increase the time to twenty minutes, up to eight times a day.

STEPS

- Sit in any comfortable seating posture like Padmasana, Siddhasana, Swastikasana, Vajrasana. Place your hands on your knees or thighs, palm facing upwards.
- Close your eyes and take some deep breaths with the awareness of the breathing process.
- Touch the top of the index finger with the base of the thumb. Then, join the top of the thumb and top of the middle finger.
- Make sure to keep other fingers extended.
- Removing all thoughts from the mind has to focus the mind only on Om.
- Don't decrease or increase the speed of breath.
- You can perform this pose for 15 minutes at a stretch every day or for 5 to 6 minutes three times a day.
- You can practise this mudra by standing in Tadasana, Reverse Prayer, Malasana, Hanumanasana, Matsyasana and Vriksasana, or sitting on a chair.

BENEFITS

- Mostly beneficial to get rid of allergies, which includes skin rashes, red patches, body itching, sneezing, etc.
- Prevents and treats common cold, running nose, tonsillitis, hay fever, etc.
- Helps get rid of mucous or congestion in the sinuses or lungs. Thus, it alleviates obstructive respiratory ailments like bronchitis and asthma.
- Those who often suffer from itching or watering eyes also gain benefits.
- Increases the concentration power of the brain.
- Regular practice of this mudra also eliminates chronic allergies.

LIMITATIONS

- Avoid dairy products like milk, yogurt, etc., if you have allergies.
- Children below the age of 12 are not advised to give it a try.

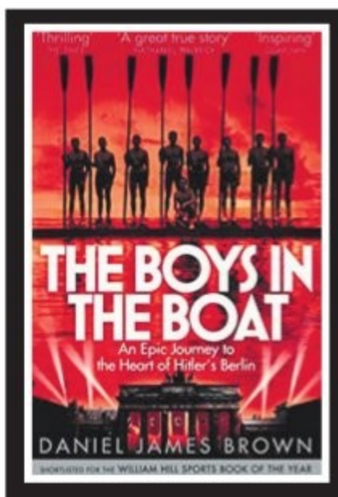
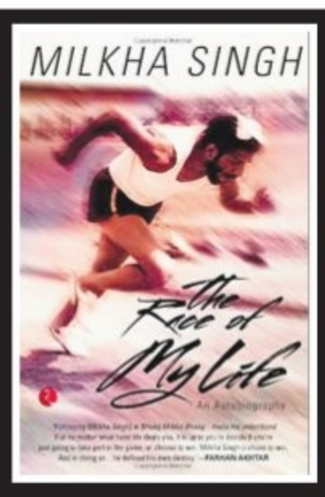
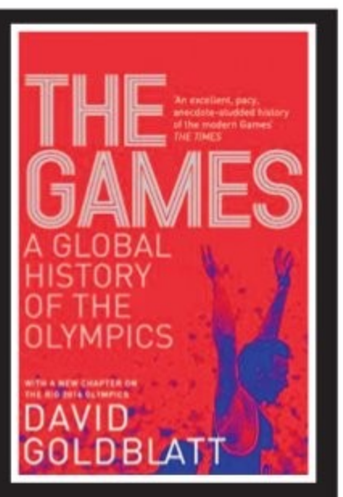
ALL ABOUT OLYMPIAN BOOKS







Japan was the first Asian nation chosen to host the Olympic Games in 1940, but World War II forced the cancellation of both summer and winter Games it had planned to host. Japan's deputy Prime Minister Tara Aso has said the Games are "cursed" with a 40-year jinx: the 1980 Moscow Olympics was boycotted by 66 countries because of the Soviet-Afghan war, and the 2020 games had to be postponed because of the pandemic. Now that the Olympics is finally scheduled to open on July 23, let's look at the books that capture the Olympic spirit at its best.

The Games: Global history of the Olympics by David Goldblatt is an insightful, anecdotal history of the modern Games. The first Olympics in Athens in 1896 was an all-male, all-white affair; women began to enter the arena from 1900; and in 1924 William DeHart Hubbard became the first African American to win a gold medal. It was the 1932 Los Angeles Games that first introduced theatrical touches such as the Flame and the national anthems. Athletic success was linked with nationalistic fervour in the 1936 Berlin Olympics when the Nazi organisers initiated a torch relay that began in Olympia.

The Boys in the Boat by Daniel James Brown is an irresistible story of how nine working-class boys who comprised the University of Washington's eight-oar crew team triumphed in the 1936 Games. Drawing on the boys' own journals and memories, Brown has created an unforgettable portrait of an era. The book was later made into a PBS documentary The Boys of '36.

The story of Eric Liddell continues to inspire generation after generation. Liddell was immortalised in the Oscar-winning Chariots of Fire; however, if you want to know him not just as the fastest man on earth but as a force for good in the world, then read Duncan Hamilton's For The Glory.

I remember flinching while watching Greg Louganis hit his head on the diving board at the 1988 Seoul Olympics. Watching him return to triumph was a tremendous experience. Breaking The Surface is a deeply moving yet inspiring book that describes the abuse he suffered growing up, and how he never felt like he truly belonged, having been given up for adoption as a baby.

Milkha Singh "The Flying Sikh" is one of India's greatest Olympians. Singh is best remembered for his fourth-place finish in the 400 metres final at the 1960 Olympic Games. The movie Bhaag Milkha Bhaag was inspired by The Race of My Life, an autobiography co-written by Singh and his daughter Sonia Sanwalka.

It was a single shot at a target smaller than the seed of an apple. Despite imperfect vision, Abhinav Bindra shot a perfect ten at the 2008 Beijing Olympics. A Shot at History captures Bindra's tough training schedules and more.

India's Olympic journey has been best captured by Boria Majumdar and Nalin Mehta's India and the Olympic (which was followed by Dreams of a Billion). The book explores how and when the Olympic ideology took root in India, and its relation to India's quest for a national and international identity. Will India be able to surpass its highest Olympic medal tally (6 medals at London 2012 Olympics) at Tokyo?

I have been fortunate to know India's greatest athlete and Olympian PT Usha, who has made it her mission to get a medal for the country, long after her time on the track. My hope is to see a new and updated full length biography of this legend!

Trisha Das

Back to the future

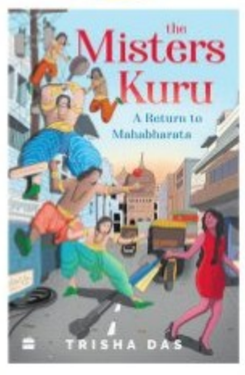
Trisha Das' new book brings back the Pandavas as they visit Draupadi, Amba and Kunti, who have settled into modern day Kalyug in New Delhi

EXPRESS FEATURES

Author Trisha Das is back with a sequel to her Ms Draupadi Kuru. The Misters Kuru : A Return to Mahabharata follows Draupadi, Amba and Kunti, who are well settled into their modern day Kalyug in New Delhi. This time, the Pandavas brothers drop into their world from the heavens. What follows is laughter, tears and new battles fought as the men find their place in the modern world. Edited excerpts from an interview:

What made you continue the story of Mahabharata?
As a modern Indian woman, I didn't see myself in stories from my own culture. Sita thrust into a fire and then abandoned by Ram, Draupadi sold off and stripped in court – it didn't feel fair that the women who spoke up were penalised. I thought about how it would be different if the same women were to inhabit a modern world. It eventually led to thinking about the men too and the idea for the Kuru books was born.

Through Yudhishtra's experience in Delhi, you take jibes at the country's political and social situation. Did you fear backlash?
I wanted there to be a political and social subtext because (a) humour is a great way to make a less-than-welcome-but-completely-noteworthy point and (b) because you can't separate the Pandavas from the political. They spent their lives in political spaces, especially Yudhishtra, who was an emperor with his own kingdom, vassal kingdoms as well as allies and enemies. So, taking him into the workings of the modern political system seemed like a natural fit.



I think it's obvious in the books that I'm coming from a place of love for the Mahabharata and these characters.

Everybody knows Mahabharatha stories. So, did you worry about how they would be received?
Ms Draupadi Kuru took me five years to write and there was a lot of second-guessing. I had to make sure I knew my stuff and prepare to be questioned. Also, whereas there were many books written about Draupadi, Ms Draupadi Kuru was the first that was a comedy and featured her in situations outside the Mahabharata. I did feel the pressure. Luckily, people received the book well.

Did you have trouble choosing the events from the epic for your books, and was it difficult to decide how you would treat them?
The references to events from the epic happened organically, in relation to what the characters were experiencing. The events were used to give the reader a clearer picture of what motivated the actions of the characters. Each character had an arc, the starting point of which was decided by their experiences in the epic, so I did have to refer to it to provide context. Yudhishtra at the beginning of the book wouldn't question his understanding of dharma but, by the end, he might. That is part of his arc.

Many would baulk at the idea of poking fun at the Pandavas. What would you say to them?
I'd say we need laughter now more than ever. I'd say I love our mythology as much as they do. I'd ask them to keep an open mind and if they couldn't, then the Kuru books obviously aren't for them.

Covid and tuition centres

Representational pic

Around the world, reports are saying that Covid has pushed the world ahead by a few years. It has sped up the adoption of new technologies and ways to work. The idea of 'going to work' has been moulded to simply 'working'. While the world would have probably eventually adopted these technologies, the pandemic has forced all of us to adopt these new methods. If you're reading this column on a Wednesday afternoon at home, you're probably working from home yourself.

This change is also true of institutions, such as schools and colleges. Take for example the 'Board Exam' - that first hurdle in the life of an Indian - a system that had stood for decades. This year, the Board Exam was scrapped, with schools having to grade students on the basis of their performance over the last two years.

When I worked as a teacher a decade ago, schools were still adapting to the new laws around corporal punishment. The PT sir in the school I taught would often complain about the rule. In fact, blackboards in the classroom would often have the quote 'Spare the rod, spoil the child' written by the students themselves!

The rise of educational apps over the last two years can be seen all around us. Even the Indian cricket team is sponsored by one such edu-tech company. While educational apps promise to transform children's lives by digital innovations, I doubt they'll replace schools. Schools will remain relevant as long as certificates and degrees are relevant in our world.

The real victims of the online edu-tech apps will be the tuition and coaching centres. Another system that has been in place for decades, exploiting the fear of parents and students. If a school was a 'temple of learning', a tuition centre resembled a Wrestlemania training centre. Tuition teachers were encouraged, even coaxed by the parents, to use the stick. It was understood that school teachers would give you knowledge, but tuition teachers would really drill the concept in your head.

School teachers saw an opportunity and would open their own tuition centres, often earning much more than their day jobs. Teachers would often convince parents to send their kids to their own tuitions. Some of these tuition centres were institutions in themselves, and ran more efficiently than most schools. Tuition teachers were known to be 'tougher', and resorted to humiliating punishments like being slapped by the opposite gender. My tuition sir was probably a Salman Khan fan, and would take off boys' shirts and make them stand in a corner.

Since my favourite subjects - English and Social Studies - were considered 'soft' subjects, they weren't taught in tuition centres. Those were reserved for 'hardcore' subjects like Maths, Physics, and Chemistry. With the rising clamour for engineering in India, parents often trusted coaching camps as a 'supplement' to formal school education. These camps are hotbeds of corporal punishment. As someone who often got into trouble for being 'indisciplined', I have been beaten, thrashed, boxed, kicked, and knocked out by teachers at school and tuitions. In fact, my 10 years in school looked like a montage scene of a Jackie Chan martial arts movie where he would train under a drunken master!

As schools around the country consider opening up again, parents and teachers will be returning to schools after a pandemic that changed the way we look at our lives. But if online apps replace the cruel system of tuitions and coaching camps, Yours Truly is certainly not going to be complaining.
